LABOR day has gone peacefully. In Europe it is a day of unrest, a gathering of troops and police. Here it is only another holiday. Labor isn't paid as well as it will be paid, and hours of labor are longer than they will be. But labor is better off here than anywhere else, and is content.

THOSE who control labor through money should make it their business to increase wages and shorten hours, proportionately with improvements in machinery and economies in production, instead of waiting for strikes and violence to do the work.

Learn To Swim

The man or woman, boy or girl, who can swim can use that knowledge in winter or summer.

Life saving is not a seasonable pursuit—a person is just as likely to drown in December while skating as in July while boating.

This is but one of the reasons why you should learn to swim, or to increase your ability if you already know how. You can never tell when this knowledge will be essential.

The Washington Bureau of this paper offers a booklet on swimming and life saving. It was prepared by the American National Red Cross and contains instructions for beginners and advanced students, together with a number of swimming and life-saving tests.

JUDGE SPENCE RULES AGAINST WELLSVILLE IN POLICE FIGHT

City's Motion is Turned Down at Lisbon.

NO ARGUMENTS

Council Will Debate Higher Court Action Thursday.

Judge W. H. Spence today overruled the city of Wellsville's motion for a new trial in the appeal case of John H. Fultz, police chief, who was fired by Mayor W. L. Fogo, lost his trial before the civil service commission and was re-instated after a bitter legal fight in common pleas court at Lisbon.

The motion for a new trial was submitted to the court without argument.

Wellsville was represented by Solicitor S. C. Luccock and Attorney S. W. Crawford. Attorney W. A. O'Grady, of Wellsville, represented Fultz.

Following the court's decision, Solicitor Luccock announced that the city, if possible, would carry the case to the court of appeals on error.

The next step rests with Wellsville council. It will be up to the solons either to authorize the city to proceed with the case or refuse permission for further prosecution.

The legislative body, with all members present, went into caucus session last night prior to the regular meeting, and were reported to be deadlocked on the issue after a session of approximately 40 minutes.

With a number of other matters awaiting their consideration the solons deferred action until Thursday night when they will meet in an adjourned session.

Part-time School Pupils Must Report Friday Afternoon

Children, between the ages of 16 and 18 years, residing in the East Liverpool school district, and who hold working certificates and are subject to the part-time school law, are requested to report to J. OUSTED CHIEF TALKED WITH RUDNER ON NIGHT MELLETT DIED, IS CLAIM

Motorcycle Policeman, First to Testify Before Civil Service Commission in Department Head's Hearing, Says Massillon Hardware Dealer Conferred With "Fired" Officer.

ANOTHER WITNESS TELLS VAGUE TALE ABOUT AUTO TRIP TO LENGEL HOME

Barber Declares Mysterious Touring Car, Lightless, Carried Three Men Passengers, One of Whom Spent Several Minutes on Porch—One of Indicted Men Will be Called to Stand.

By PAUL E. BROKAW.

CANTON, O., Sept. 8.—John A. McDonald, motorcycle policeman in the Canton police department, the first witness to appear before the civil service commission in the hearing of ousted Police Chief Seranus A. Lengel, testified today that Lengel was called outside the police station on the night of the Mellett murder by Ben Rudner.

Rudner, wealthy Massillon, O., hardware dealer, is one of the three men under indictment for the murder of Mellett.

Rudner talked with the chief for about 15 minutes, McDonald declared.

H. R. Fowler, barber, who stated that his home was located across the street from the Lengel home, was the second witness.

Questioned by H. B. Pontius, attorney and friend of the slain editor's and appointed by Mayor Swarts to conduct the questioning of witnesses in the Lengel hearing, Fowled told a vague tale about a mysterious touring car driving, lightless, to the Lengel home about 11 p. m. on the night of the murder.

Fowler declared that the car had three men passengers, one of whom spent several minutes on the Lengel porch.

Charges Against Lengel.

The charges that caused his dismissal accused Lengel, as well as several members of his department of maintaining "too close contact with known law violators."

Ben Rudner will be taken from the Stark county jail under heavily armed guard to testify in the hearing. He has been subpoenaed by Mayor Swarts along with several alleged notorious characters.

It is possible that Rudner will be taken from the hearing and be arraigned on the murder indictment, although County Prosecutor C. B. McClintock stated that the arraignment would not be held until tomorrow morning when Louis Mazer, also indicted for murder, was expected to be returned from Cleveland.

The hearing of Floyd Streitenberger, suspended detective who corroborated the alibi of Mazer, has been set for next Saturday.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—The department of justice will grant a request from United States District Attorney Bernsteen at Cleveland to turn over to Canton authorities Louis Mazer, indicted for the murder of Don R. Mellett, Canton publisher, officials stated today. Mazer is now held at Cleveland on a liquor law violation charge.

A formal request for action from Bernsteen has not been received, but department officials said it was the rule to comply with requests of district attorneys in such cases.

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 8.—United States District Attorney A. E. Bernsteen was awaiting advices from Washington today before turning over Louis Mazer, alleged slayer of Don R.

PORTLAND, Me., Sept. 8. — "Grandma" Almatia Bennett, Chicopee Falls, Mass., today celebrated her one hundredth birthday by flying over the city in a seaplane piloted by Harry Jones, formerly an army flier.

The centenarian waved her hand merrily to spectators on the beach as the seaplane took off, circled over the city for 10 or 15 minutes, and greeted the crowd upon her return with the remark that she "enjoyed every moment of my trip and wasn't a bit afraid at any time."

Mrs. Bennett made a similar flight at Bangor on her ninety-fourth birthday.

BLAINE DEFEATS SENATOR LENROOT IN WISCONSIN, WHILE MOSES OF NEW HAMPSHIRE AND ODDIE OF NEVADA ARE ALSO PRIMARY WINNERS

MADISON, Wis., Sept. 8.—Riding on the crest of Wisconsin's flood tide of anti-prohibition sentiment, Gov. John J. Blaine, "wet," and anti-world court senatorial candidate, apparently was being swept to victory today.

Returns from yesterday's primary, compiled up to 10 o'clock today, gave Blaine a lead of almost 11,000 over Senator Irvin L. Lenroot, who made his campaign issues adherence to the court and rigid enforcement of prohibition.

First returns favored Lenroot, but as more representative sections of the state were heard from, his early lead was soon offset and Gov. Blaine went out in front. The latter's lead is growing steadily as late returns trickle in.

The vote in 1,751 of the state's 2,728 precincts gave Blaine a total of 143,067 and Lenroot 132,206, and Blaine headquarters declared that there was not sufficient Lenroot strength in the remaining outstanding vote to offset the governor's lead.

In the gubernatorial contest, Fred R. Zimmerman, who broke with the LaFollette faction, was leading his nearest rival in a field of four candidates by approximately 15,000 votes.

World Court Foe Wins.

CONCORD, N. H., Sept. 8.—United States Senator George H. Moses, conspicuous opponent of the league of nations and the world court, today stood as a winner by a 15,000 majority of the New Hampshire republican senatorial renomination.

Returns from the Republican primary—261 out of 294 towns and wards gave:

Senator Moses 32,359.

Former Governor Robert P. Bass 15,492.

Judge James W. Emick 869.

Robert C. Murchie, of Concord, won the Democratic senatorial nomination over Albert W. Noone, of Peterborough.

Governor John G. Winant was defeated in the republican primary by Huntley N. Spaulding.

Mayor Eaton D. Sargent, of Nashua, was unopposed for the democratic gubernatorial nomination.

In the only congressional contest that in the democratic first district—Ferdinand Farley, Manchester, led F. Clyde Keefe, Dover.

Reno Mayor Defeated.

RENO, Nev., Sept. 8.—Senator Tasker L. Oddie today was practically assured of the nomination for United States senator on the republican ticket. With approximately 85 per cent of the returns complete, he was leading his opponent, Mayor E. E. Roberts of Reno, by almost two to one. The latest returns gave Oddie 7,060 votes to 3,635 for Roberts.

Raymond T. Baker, former director of mints and husband of the former Mrs. Alfred Vanderbilt, apparently had won the senatorial nomination on the democratic ticket. Returns were tabulated as follows:

Baker 4,031.
McCarran, 2,332.
McIntosh 1,097.
Brennan 620.

Gov. Hunt Wins in Arizona.

PHOENIX, Arizona, Sept. 8.—Gov. G. W. P. Hunt, running for nomination for governor on the Democratic ticket, had apparently won the right today to represent his party for the sixth consecutive time.

Hunt, who campaigned on an anti-Boulder Dam platform, on the basis of returns early today will apparently pile up a majority over his two opponents.

With 178 precincts tabulated from yesterday's primary, Hunt had 7,278; E. E. Ellinwood, of Phoenix, 3,863, and J. Cox, 3,857.

Approximately the same number of precincts showed E. S. Clark, former

A. Monasky or Miss Geraldine DeVoe, part-time school instructors, on the second floor of the Central school building not later than Friday afternoon of this week, to be assigned to classes.

Boys and girls living outside the school district who work in East Liverpool and those residing in this school district but who are employed in Newell or Chester are required to enroll.

OUSTED CHIEF TALKED WITH RUDNER ON NIGHT MELLETT DIED, IS CLAIM

Motorcycle Policeman, First to Testify Before Civil Service Commission in Department Head's Hearing, Says Massillon Hardware Dealer Conferred With "Fired" Officer.

ANOTHER WITNESS TELLS VAGUE TALE ABOUT AUTO TRIP TO LENGEL HOME

Barber Declares Mysterious Touring Car, Lightless, Carried Three Men Passengers, One of Whom Spent Several Minutes on Porch—One of Indicted Men Will be Called to Stand.

By PAUL E. BROKAW.

CANTON, O., Sept. 8.—John A. McDonald, motorcycle policeman in the Canton police department, the first witness to appear before the civil service commission in the hearing of ousted Police Chief Seranus A. Lengel, testified today that Lengel was called outside the police station on the night of the Mellett murder by Ben Rudner.

Rudner, wealthy Massillon, O., hardware dealer, is one of the three men under indictment for the murder of Mellett.

Rudner talked with the chief for about 15 minutes, McDonald declared.

H. R. Fowler, barber, who stated that his home was located across the street from the Lengel home, was the second witness.

Questioned by H. B. Pontius, attorney and friend of the slain editor's and appointed by Mayor Swarts to conduct the questioning of witnesses in the Lengel hearing, Fowled told a vague tale about a mysterious touring car driving, lightless, to the Lengel home about 11 p. m. on the night of the murder.

Fowler declared that the car had three men passengers, one of whom spent several minutes on the Lengel porch.

Charges Against Lengel.

The charges that caused his dismissal accused Lengel, as well as several members of his department of maintaining "too close contact with known law violators."

Ben Rudner will be taken from the Stark county jail under heavily armed guard to testify in the hearing. He has been subpoenaed by Mayor Swarts along with several alleged notorious characters.

It is possible that Rudner will be taken from the hearing and be arraigned on the murder indictment, although County Prosecutor C. B. McClintock stated that the arraignment would not be held until tomorrow morning when Louis Mazer, also indicted for murder, was expected to be returned from Cleveland.

The hearing of Floyd Streitenberger, suspended detective who corroborated the alibi of Mazer, has been set for next Saturday.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—The department of justice will grant a request from United States District Attorney Bernsteen at Cleveland to turn over to Canton authorities Louis Mazer, indicted for the murder of Don R. Mellett, Canton publisher, officials stated today. Mazer is now held at Cleveland on a liquor law violation charge.

A formal request for action from Bernsteen has not been received, but department officials said it was the rule to comply with requests of district attorneys in such cases.

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 8.—United States District Attorney A. E. Bernsteen was awaiting advices from Washington today before turning over Louis Mazer, alleged slayer of Don R.

Woman Celebrates 100th Birthday by Flying in Plane

PORTLAND, Me., Sept. 8. — "Grandma" Almatia Bennett, Chicopee Falls, Mass., today celebrated her one hundredth birthday by flying over the city in a seaplane piloted by Harry Jones, formerly an army flier.

The centenarian waved her hand merrily to spectators on the beach as the seaplane took off, circled over the city for 10 or 15 minutes, and greeted the crowd upon her return with the remark that she "enjoyed every moment of my trip and wasn't a bit afraid at any time."

Mrs. Bennett made a similar flight at Bangor on her ninety-fourth birthday.

BLAINE DEFEATS SENATOR LENROOT IN WISCONSIN, WHILE MOSES OF NEW HAMPSHIRE AND ODDIE OF NEVADA ARE ALSO PRIMARY WINNERS

MADISON, Wis., Sept. 8.—Riding on the crest of Wisconsin's flood tide of anti-prohibition sentiment, Gov. John J. Blaine, "wet," and anti-world court senatorial candidate, apparently was being swept to victory today.

Returns from yesterday's primary, compiled up to 10 o'clock today, gave Blaine a lead of almost 11,000 over Senator Irvin L. Lenroot, who made his campaign issues adherence to the court and rigid enforcement of prohibition.

First returns favored Lenroot, but as more representative sections of the state were heard from, his early lead was soon offset and Gov. Blaine went out in front. The latter's lead is growing steadily as late returns trickle in.

The vote in 1,751 of the state's 2,728 precincts gave Blaine a total of 143,067 and Lenroot 132,206, and Blaine headquarters declared that there was not sufficient Lenroot strength in the remaining outstanding vote to offset the governor's lead.

In the gubernatorial contest, Fred R. Zimmerman, who broke with the LaFollette faction, was leading his nearest rival in a field of four candidates by approximately 15,000 votes.

World Court Foe Wins.

CONCORD, N. H., Sept. 8.—United States Senator George H. Moses, conspicuous opponent of the league of nations and the world court, today stood as a winner by a 15,000 majority of the New Hampshire republican senatorial renomination.

Returns from the Republican primary—261 out of 294 towns and wards gave:

Senator Moses 32,859.

Former Governor Robert P. Bass 15,492.

Judge James W. Emick 869.

Robert C. Murchie, of Concord, won the Democratic senatorial nomination over Albert W. Noone, of Peterborough.

Governor John G. Winant was defeated in the republican primary by Huntley N. Spaulding.

Mayor Eaton D. Sargent, of Nashua, was unopposed for the democratic gubernatorial nomination.

In the only congressional contest that in the democratic first district—Ferdinand Farley, Manchester, led F. Clyde Keefe, Dover.

Reno Mayor Defeated.

RENO, Nev., Sept. 8.—Senator Tasker L. Oddie today was practically assured of the nomination for United States senator on the republican ticket. With approximately 85 per cent of the returns complete, he was leading his opponent, Mayor E. E. Roberts of Reno, by almost two to one. The latest returns gave Oddie 7,060 votes to 3,635 for Roberts.

Raymond T. Baker, former director of mints and husband of the former Mrs. Alfred Vanderbilt, apparently had won the senatorial nomination on the democratic ticket. Returns were tabulated as follows:

Baker 4,031.
McCarran, 2,332.
McIntosh 1,097.
Brennan 620.

Gov. Hunt Wins in Arizona.

PHOENIX, Arizona, Sept. 8.—Gov. G. W. P. Hunt, running for nomination for governor on the Democratic ticket, had apparently won the right today to represent his party for the sixth consecutive time.

Hunt, who campaigned on an anti-Boulder Dam platform, on the basis of returns early today will apparently pile up a majority over his two opponents.

With 178 precincts tabulated from yesterday's primary, Hunt had 7,278; E. E. Ellinwood, of Phoenix, 3,863, and J. Cox, 3,857.

Approximately the same number of precincts showed E. S. Clark, former

$3,000 VOTED FOR SEWER JOB

Solons Advise Immediate Action on Repair Work.

A resolution authorizing city officials to borrow $3,000 with which to clean McQueen's Run sewer and put it in condition again was passed last night by city council as an emergency measure.

Although conceding that municipal finances were in bad shape, Auditor Fred Eckfeld pointed out that it would be possible perhaps to borrow $3,000 from the bank and pay it back later by the issuance of bonds.

Councilman William Nicholson pointed out that thousands of dollars worth of damage has already been caused by the ravages of two heavy storms and that the sewer should be cleaned up immediately and placed in condition.

In reply to Councilman Connor's question as to how the city had reached its estimate of $3,000, Service Director George P. Ashley, explaining the purpose of the fund, asserted that the city would have to build something to keep the rocks and debris out of the sewer. He pointed out that his forces had been working from both ends of the sewer, having made a number of taps through which rubbish was being lifted. The breakers in McQueen's run hollow, he said, must be repaired, and in order to provide adequate protection, additional breakers should be constructed. It will cost perhaps $300 or $400 to repair the old breakers, Director Ashley estimated, approximately $1,200, at a conservative estimate, to clean out the sewer, and whatever is left will be needed in the erection of new breakers. In this work the street car company will assist by donating rails.

Cleaning the sewer will do no good, Solon Nicholson asserted, unless these breakers are constructed.

If the work is not done now, in the opinion of Director Ashley, it will cost considerable more to do it later.

Attorney G. D. Ingram, speaking from the audience, brought solon's attention to the fact of a serious legal question as to whether the city is liable if it fails to act to provide protection for property owners in the west end of the city.

He referred to W. J. Falloon as one of the chief sufferers. The foundations of the Falloon home have been damaged, Attorney Ingram asserted, his cellar flooded and his property gutted.

"With a knowledge on your part," he told solons, "the city becomes legally responsible. It is the duty of the city to keep the sewer open. Three thousand dollars is only a pittance compared with the damage done there in the last two months."

In response to a suggestion by Mr. Ingram, council named its street and light committee to confer with Ingram and Mr. Falloon.

Following a statement by Auditor Eckfeld that $5,000 really should be appropriated for the job, Mayor Fogo advised council to go ahead with the resolution for $3,000 and that if it became necessary to ask for more, solons could take action then.

The first thing to do, in the opinion of Mayor Fogo, is to complete the construction of breakers.

JOHN CRAWFORD FAMILY REUNION

The descendants of John Crawford, pioneer American, held their sixth annual reunion at the home of Mrs. Georgia Mick, near Wellsville, Labor Day.

John Crawford, the founder of this old family, came to America from Ireland in the time of the Colonies, locating in Virginia and serving with distinction in the war of the Revolution. His son, Daniel Crawford, Sr., was born in 1778; came to Ohio from Virginia in 1806, locating in Madison township, on the farm now owned and occupied by Joseph A. Crawford. He served in the War of 1812, but refused a pension.

The honor guests were Mrs. Alcena Lamond, Washington, D. C. and Daniel Crawford Ward, Tower Hill, Ill. Mrs. Lamond occupies a very important place in the social and Masonic life of the United States, being grand treasurer of the Eastern Star.

Mr. Ward's mother, Margaret Crawford Ward, was born on the old Crawford farm in 1819, married Wm. H. Ward in 1835, located in Gallia county, Ohio, but migrated from there to Illinois in 1856, going by boat from Gallipolis via Cairo and St. Louis, arriving at their new home on the bluffs on the Mississippi in the very heat of the great debates between Abraham Lincoln and Stephen A. Douglass over the slavery issue. Mr. Ward was only nine years old when his family located in Illinois, and, although nearly 80 years of age now, has never visited the home of his ancestors in Columbiana county until the present. He retains his mental vigor to a remarkable degree. He is a Methodist, and enjoys the distinction of having attended five church services weekly for sixty years with a few exceptions. Thirty families were represented. Joseph A. Crawford and Grace Lowrie Williard were re-elected president and secretary-treasurer. Among those from a distance were Mrs. Delpha Petzel and daughter, Marian, Cleveland; Earl Ward, Tower Hill, Ill.; Angus Lamond, Jr., Washington, D. CITY'S GENERAL FUND RUNS LOW

City employes gazed questioningly last night at the first item on City Auditor Fred Eckfeld's report for August. The general fund, from which salaries of a number of officials are paid, indicates a balance of $139.42 for the rest of the year.

"I don't know yet what we're going to do," Auditor Eckfeld said.

Other fund balances are: Safety, $1,612.14; health, $301.79; service, $2,767.01; water, $3,054.69; cemetery, $1,547.42; library, $173.73; special water, $29,954.62; gasoline tax, $5,326; auto license, $3,252.39; cemetery trust, $472.52; firemen's indemnity, $156.52; sinking fund depository, $35,800.67.

POLICE SEIZE LARGE STILL

Odor of Mash and Liquor Leads to Discovery.

A 50 or 60 gallon still, which police say, gave indications of having been used recently, found last night by authorities in the old Frank Nance house in Anderson avenue, between Twelfth and Thirteenth streets, was removed today to the city hall building by Chief of Police Fultz.

The house in which the still was located is not being used as a home. A five-gallon can, said to have been about two-thirds full of liquor, and a keg of mash, in addition to 15 or 20 empty barrels were confiscated by the police.

The odor of mash and liquor, apparently dumped near the house recently, led to the discovery, Chief Fultz asserted, as patrolmen passed the spot on their way through Twelfth street.

The investigation, it is said, will be continued.

Joseph Geisse, Main street, was ordered to appear before Mayor W. L. Fogo tonight on a charge of possessing gambling equipment. Patrolmen Cole and Pugh confiscated two large punchboards and a number of smaller ones in a visit to the Geisse establishment last night, authorities announced.

Acting on orders from Chief Fultz patrolmen last night dumped 100 gallons of wine seized by police following a raid Saturday night at the Frank Fusci place near Fourteenth street.

Fusci, at a hearing before Mayor W. L. Fogo, was assessed a fine of $100.00 and costs and made arrangements to pay.

Nick Cruel, arrested yesterday by Constable Oyster on a charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated, last night was fined $20 and costs by Mayor W. L. Fogo. He made arrangements to pay.

In obedience to orders issued by Chief Fultz, proprietors of three establishments, including a pool room and two lunch stands, which authorities have threatened to padlock, have promised to close up, Fultz announced.

One is operated by Sam Guidino, in Third street, and the other two, run by Guy Sapanaro and James Viola, have been in operation in Main street between Thirteenth and Fourteenth streets.

ZION CITY COURTING HAS DRAWBACK; APOSTLE SOAKS LOVERS WITH WATER

ZION, Ill.—All is not always peace in this city though Zion is its name!

The latest squabble that would do no credit to any city, especially a city of peace.

Theron Cobb, 18, it seems, was talking to a daughter of Apostle Moot under Josh McIntosh's window. McIntosh deluged them with a panful of water.

Apostle Moot thereupon went "up in Josh's room' and it is reported loud and violent voices were heard from the window. Young Cobb then mounted the stairs and, failing to move quickly enough, when ordered out, was pounced upon by Josh and thrown down the stairs bodily.

Not satisfied with this, Cobb charges, Josh pounded him ferociously, being finally persuaded by his wife to desist.

Josh faces court proceedings.

The accident occurred, according to Robert Wheatley, Jr., 25, Salineville, driver of the bus, when he attempted to pass a horse and buggy. Because of the dense fog he failed to see the vehicle until he was upon it.

POLICE SEIZE LARGE STILL

Odor of Mash and Liquor Leads to Discovery.

A 50 or 60 gallon still, which police say, gave indications of having been used recently, found last night by authorities in the old Frank Nance house in Anderson avenue, between Twelfth and Thirteenth streets, was removed today to the city hall building by Chief of Police Fultz.

The house in which the still was located is not being used as a home. A five-gallon can, said to have been about two-thirds full of liquor, and a keg of mash, in addition to 15 or 20 empty barrels were confiscated by the police.

The odor of mash and liquor, apparently dumped near the house recently, led to the discovery, Chief Fultz asserted, as patrolmen passed the spot on their way through Twelfth street.

The investigation, it is said, will be continued.

Joseph Geisse, Main street, was ordered to appear before Mayor W. L. Fogo tonight on a charge of possessing gambling equipment. Patrolmen Cole and Pugh confiscated two large punchboards and a number of smaller ones in a visit to the Geisse establishment last night, authorities announced.

Acting on orders from Chief Fultz patrolmen last night dumped 100 gallons of wine seized by police following a raid Saturday night at the Frank Fusci place near Fourteenth street.

Fusci, at a hearing before Mayor W. L. Fogo, was assessed a fine of $100.00 and costs and made arrangements to pay.

Nick Cruel, arrested yesterday by Constable Oyster on a charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated, last night was fined $20 and costs by Mayor W. L. Fogo. He made arrangements to pay.

In obedience to orders issued by Chief Fultz, proprietors of three establishments, including a pool room and two lunch stands, which authorities have threatened to padlock, have promised to close up, Fultz announced.

One is operated by Sam Guidino, in Third street, and the other two, run by Guy Sapanaro and James Viola, have been in operation in Main street between Thirteenth and Fourteenth streets.

ZION CITY COURTING HAS DRAWBACK; APOSTLE SOAKS LOVERS WITH WATER

ZION, Ill.—All is not always peace in this city though Zion is its name!

The latest squabble that would do no credit to any city, especially a city of peace.

Theron Cobb, 18, it seems, was talking to a daughter of Apostle Moot under Josh McIntosh's window. McIntosh deluged them with a panful of water.

Apostle Moot thereupon went "up in Josh's room' and it is reported loud and violent voices were heard from the window. Young Cobb then mounted the stairs and, failing to move quickly enough, when ordered out, was pounced upon by Josh and thrown down the stairs bodily.

Not satisfied with this, Cobb charges, Josh pounded him ferociously, being finally persuaded by his wife to desist.

Josh faces court proceedings.

The accident occurred, according to Robert Wheatley, Jr., 25, Salineville, driver of the bus, when he attempted to pass a horse and buggy. Because of the dense fog he failed to see the vehicle until he was upon it.

BOOK TWO—I.

The autumn prom came on with a rush. One day the town was purely academic, and the next, by some overnight miracle, it was purely social. All through the forenoon it seethed with the transformation of student into Sybarite. Flannel shirts, hats without crowns, socks that didn't match, sweaters—all the regalia of ordinary life—gave place to gala attire. Lines formed five deep in the barber shops. The swinging doors of bootblack parlors flapped inward and outward ceaselessly, like unlatched gates in a high wind. Tailoring establishments were thick with the steam of hot irons on hundreds of pairs of trousers. Taxicabs tripled their rates and cruised the streets, tempting the opulent and the hurried. The cash register in the store of Beatty the Florist gave forth a perpetual ping-ping-ping—for Beatty was a wiseman, grown old and wise and wary in the service of collegians, and his law was "no cash, no corsage."

Fraternity houses and clubs were in an uproar of preparation and evacuation. Rooms cleaned and set in order for feminine occupancy; certain Rabelaisian volumes pushed under mattresses; certain works of art removed from walls and put away in trunks; pictures of girls other than the prom-girl hidden discreetly; whole armfuls of garments carried off to the dormitories, where boys would room in threes and fours and sixes, and dress in squads, and sleep, if at all, in morris chairs, for the next two glamorous nights. . . . Freshmen drifted about the campus, trying hard to look as though they didn't know anything unusual was happening and fervently desiring the coming of the day when they should be sophomores and free to participate The woman-hating element, clad defiantly in their oldest and worst, circulated in groups, jeering at immaculate contemporaries. "Hey, Bill, where'd you get the hat?" . . . "My God, look at Beany!". . . . "She sure ought to fall for those socks, old man!" . . . "Barber kinda ruined you, didn't he, Jay?" . . Later they would hang out of windows fronting the street and from this vantage point regard the influx of beauty with a jaundiced eye. Most haughtily critical were the women-haters. And eagle-eyed. That girl was too fat. That one was too skinny. And oh, boy, look at the bowlegs on this one!

II.

As Jock had feared, Molly recovered with astonishing ease and celerity from the fit of pique that had marked their parting in September, and was coming to the prom in high feather. Repeatedly he cursed himself for ever having asked her in the first place, and several times he was on the point of retracting his invitation so that he might have Yvonne as his guest instead. No doubt he would have done so had it not been for Yvonne herself. She maintained that nothing on earth could induce her to attend under such conditions. "I wouldn't be as mean as that to any one," she said.

The sense of fair play inherent in Jock approved this, even while he strove hotly to combat it. He wanted Yvonne for the prom more than he had ever wanted anything within his memory, but he secretly admited that he would have been a shade disappointed in her if she had agreed to come at the expense of another girl.

As it was, his adoration for her increased by just that much. She was perfect. . . . He had been to New York thrice to see her since that memorable afternoon in her apartment, and each time she became in his eyes more beautiful, more desirable, more beloved. Also, more mysterious, for she continued steadfastly to keep him in ignorance of herself and her life. She would say, "Oh, my dear, you will find out soon enough," and silence his questions with kisses. Love of her, tinged with curiosity, had become an obsession with. She filled all his waking thoughts and colored all his hours. Prom without her would be cake without flavoring. . . .

Molly's train was due at three in the afternoon. Two o'clock found Jock arraying himself lestlessly—a definite contrast to the manner in which he would have arrayed himself had it been Yvonne's train. Dressing to meet Yvonne was an elaborate process, one requiring much thought, much painstaking selection, and ruthless raids upon the wardrobes of his friends. He always set forth a call on her sartorially representing the fraternity at large. . . in Pink's new suit, Bill's hat, Ken Kennedy's muffler. Somehow one's own clothes, however good, are never quite good enough for the eyes of a girl like Yvonne.

But they do very well for a Molly.

He drew a tie at random out of the bundle of them that dropped from a rack on his chiffonier, and confronted the looking-glass. With the tie around his neck and an end of it grasped ready for action in each hand he stood a moment, surveying himself. His hair lay flatly, shinily, like a skull-cap of glossy black with a straight white seam in the center. His dark eyes looked back at him with sober brooding. That oblique upward slant of his mouth, that was a smile usually, was something very like a sneer just now. He was thinking of himself not as the extremely sightly young gentleman the mirror reflected, but the unforgivable jackass who was about to be bored to the point of frenzy for two days through nobody's fault but his own."

"Humph!" he snorted.

"What's that?" queried Bones from across the room.

"It's three rousing jeers for myself. I'm the biggest—" He broke off. "Wish the damn prom was over," he finished moodily.

Bones turned a shocked face tufted with shaving leather toward this heretic. "Why?"

"I've told you why, twenty times. Because I don't like the woman I've got coming."

"Then for the luvvagawd why did you ask her?"

"I liked her once," Jock said simply. As he said it he thought, "There! There's the whole trouble with me where women are concerned, in four words—'I liked her once!'.. Every darn time it evolves into that. I must be fickle as hell." Then came another idea. "Wonder if I'll ever say about Yvonne, 'I liked her once?'" This seemed to him impossibly absurd, and he grinned into the mirror "Never," he assured himself. "I'll always love Yvonne. She's the one one I've been looking for all my life."

Bones was talking on. "You and Dopey Lane ought to get together. Have you heard the sob-stuff about his girl?"

"No. What's the matter with her?"

"Everything but St. Vitius' dance, to hear Dopey tell it. He says she's a complete zero. Just one of the cradle, and no stuff at all. He's running around telling everybody how she's the little girl who lives next door and his family roped him into asking her down, so nobody'll make a mistake and take her for his sweetie or anything. He'll have a fine week-end," Bones predicted as an afterthought.

"Seems to be the girl will have a worse one," answered Jock.

Unblemished SKIN

Gives You confidence
HOW conscious we are of our skin! Even one little pimple or blackhead will so embarrass us that we want to hide right away. And eczema, boils, blotches and rashes! Why, these awful things simply destroy all our ambition!
But what confidence we have in ourselves if our skin is clear and unblemished—free from any eruptions or breaking out! A clear skin is one of the greatest possessions in the world—and it is so easy to have it. All that is necessary is to keep our systems full of rich, red, pure blood. S. S. S. helps Nature build this blood. And the impurities that cause these so-called skin disorders are driven right out of the system.
If you want the kind of skin that captivates men and compels the admiration of other women, just remember that you can't have it if your blood is impoverished. But, just build red-blood-cells in your blood with S. S. S. and your dream of a soft, rosy, velvet skin, clear of blemishes, will be realized. Then notice the difference in the way you feel.

S. S. S. has proven for generations that it helps Nature build the rich, red blood that makes beautiful skin and healthy bodies. Let S. S. S. prove it for you.

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 8, 1926.

Curfew

Chicago has a curfew law which went into effect Sept. 1, with interesting results. Girls and boys under 17 are forbidden to be out after 10 o'clock. The first evening the police picked up 500 girls from 13 to 16 and sent them home with warnings to keep off the streets and out of dance halls. Repeated offenses may bring more serious treatment.

That is a good work, much needed in larger cities and not entirely uncalled for in smaller ones.

One trouble, however, the police are having in Chicago which is sure to occur in the application of any curfew laws nowadays. It's a difficult and delicate matter to assume any particular age for the girls on the street, when flappers and grandmothers dress and look so much alike.

The Open Door For Murderers

It shocks and angers the American public to be told that Richard Loeb and Nathan Leopold, the cultured Chicago youths who killed little Bobby Franks just for the fun of it, will be eligible for parole in 1935.

The public has supposed that those heartless murderers were securely penned up for life. The widespread demand for their execution was relaxed only on assurance from the Chicago court that the murderers would be put and kept where they could never do any more harm to society. Each was given two sentences, one for life and the other for 99 years.

Yet the Illinois supervisor of pardons and paroles explains that, because the judge failed to state whether the sentences were to run consecutively or concurrently, they presumably run concurrently; that there arises then the question whether the period served shall be determined by the life sentence or the 99-year sentence; that in the former case the prisoners would be eligible for pardon 20 years from the beginning of their term, and in the latter case, in 33 years; and on the former supposition, that good behavior would reduce the period to a little over 11 years altogether, making it legal to pardon them only nine years from now.

Truly American criminal law is a fearful and wonderful thing, particularly in piling upheard?of protections and benefits for the criminals.

Let it be observed, however, that mere "eligibility" to pardon or parole does not make it imperative or inevitable that those two murderers should be let out of prison a few years hence. No board will dare to free them, or their kind, if the public is alert in opposition to such frivolous or sentimental action.

This applies to hundreds of other criminals throughout the country who ought to pay the full penalty imposed, for the good of their own souls, the protection of society and the discouragement of potential social enemies. Their punishment depends on the way the public feels about it.

Passenger Ships

If there is a slump in ocean freight traffic, there is none in the passenger traffic. It is heavier than ever, with promise of still greater crowds of seafaring tourists for next year. All the trans-Atlantic liners are jammed, with long lists waiting for passage.

Naturally this stimulates the construction of new liners, and larger ones. The White Star Line is preparing to build the biggest ship in existence, displacing 62,000 tons, far greater than the Olympic and Leviathan. The French Line is building another passenger ship, not so large as those but the largest under the French flag.

There is a lack of goods to carry overseas, as our shipping board will sadly confess. But there is no lack of people. Instead of merchandise moving abroad and bringing home money, we have people going abroad and spending money. The country can afford that—we are rich, and our export trade holds up pretty well—but it is sad to see the empty freighters.

Road Sign Vandals

Complaint is made of vandalism in many places which takes the curious form of destroying or altering road signs. It appears alike in the familiar twisting of street signs in cities and in the less familiar bending or complete removal of highway signs in the country, on important routes.

The result is that strangers, especially tourists, are often sent miles out of their way by a sign pointing in the wrong direction, or are left without adequate information regarding curves and other features of the road ahead.

This is a queer form of practical joke. If the funny young fellows perpetrating it were given stiff fines or jail sentences whenever they were caught, it would help to straighten out their perverted sense of humor.

If there is any inanimate thing on earth that should tell the truth, it is a road sign. Tampering with it may often be comparable to throwing a switch to derail a passenger train.

Two men stood on the edge of a wharf arguing about Gertrude's swimming method. One waved his arms wildly in illustration, fell off and was drowned.

If it doesn't accomplish anything else, that old Norse model that has just sailed across the Atlantic should teach a lot of us how to spell Leif Erikson.

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—An avalanche of salacious magazines suddenly descended on Manhattan not many months ago and reached an amazing sale. All exploited a mess of sexy nonsense and adroitly stressed the inevitable triumph of virtue.

Dreamers in rags dreamt rag dreams. Shop girls, chorines and beautiful models sobbed out the perfidy of man in "first person" confessions. Every beauty was the victim of a beast and an innocent stroll on the avenue became the prelude to a chiffon career in an apartment on the Drive.

Sanctimonious looking employers were revealed by timid stenographers as libidinous sheiks fearfully misunderstood by invalid wives. The world was an orgy of fleshy desires. And circulation figures began to climb by leaps of a hundred thousand.

Most of these girlish revelations were dashed off in the office or by crabbed bachelor pot-boilers in Village attics. They were resigned for "below stairs" consumption and read secretly in the boudoirs. And then something happened.

Sales suddenly sloughed off. One magazine with a circulation of 150,000 lost 70,000 readers in a month. Several suspended publication. A New York editorial writer classified the debacle as "sex suffocation." And the mystery is yet unexplained.

Some blame it on the gay little tabloids which foster the same idea without background of anonymity. Others accuse that "prop" victims of the world's woes—the movies. The most sensible explanation is that a rather good idea was over-worked.

In the sudden revolt a curious twist in magazine publishing of the cheaper brand was noted. Glutted with sex, readers turned to the so-called "westerns"—stories of wide open spaces with clean minded heroes, galloping over purple sage.

There is a man in New York who has 110 Russian Cossacks on his hands with the problem of feeding and housing them until they can fulfill a Hollywood movie engagement. He brought them over in advance to present them as a sort of Russian rodeo and was compelled to furnish bond of $500 each to fulfill the immigration laws. The rodeo was a tremendous flop. And the troupe went on the shoals in a mid west city where it still is.

Broadway thrilled to the news that the former Loraine Manville, musical comedy star, had become the heiress of a nine million dollar estate. She is the wife of Clare Gould, nicknamed "Jay" by college classmates, and a popular musical comedy juvenile. Mrs. Gould has quit the stage and her good-looking husband has entered the business world. Their romance was one that rose above the tawdry romances of the Rialto. I have known them for some time and they have been a credit to the profession they graced.

I imagine Jay Gould was often embarrassed because people thought he was posing as a relative of the illustrious family of that name. He had nothing to do with it. Theatrical managers seized his nickname over his protests when he was a struggling actor, and it was thus he became known to the public.

Uplift among billiardists grows. On Tenth Avenue is a sign: "This is not a pool hall. It is a parlor where pocket billiards are played. Gambling in any form is prohibited."

In a theatre lobby the other night I saw a sickening episode. A well-dressed man awaited a lady. A man walked by and stepped squarely on his well polished shoe. The offender was given a shove that landed him sprawling on the tiled flood. He was helped to his feet by bystanders who suddenly paled. The man was blind. The other man vanished.

Fighting The Inheritance Tax.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 8.—The fight which the State of Florida is waging against the Federal inheritance tax comes to an issue next month when the rule issued by the United States Supreme Court is returnable.

Until Congress enacted the revenue law approved in February this year Florida was a haven for wealthy persons who were anxious that their estates should not be levied against for state inheritance tax purposes. Florida has a provision in her Constitution that neither an inheritance nor an income tax shall be assessed against her residents or citizens. Most of the other states have inheritance taxes, some of them rather burdensome. Therefore the rich man of any other part of the United States who desired to escape such a levy had only to remove to Florida and establish his legal residence there.

Millionaires throughout the country were not long in learning about this. In fact, the enterprising people of Florida went far afield to advertise the good news, with the result that considerable numbers of the elderly rich of other states decided to go to heaven, or elsewhere, via Florida and thus leave their estates as intact as possible. This is aid to have had no little to do with the Florida real estate boom that made such a noise, and that started echoes that are still reverberating.

And it seemed that there was nothing the other states could do about it to get on an equal footing with Florida except to repeal their own inheritance tax laws, which none of them wanted to do. However, bright minds in Congress evolved a plan to turn the trick. A paragraph was incorporated into the new Federal revenue law providing for a rebate of not to exceed 80 per cent of the Federal inheritance tax in all cases where an estate or inheritance tax is paid to a state.

With that the law of the land, residents of Florida must pay their Federal inheritance taxes in full, because they pay no state tax, while residents of other states escape the Federal levy in proportion to the amount of their state levy. This means that a rich man can die in New York, for example, knowing that his estate must pay a state inheritance tax, but also knowing that it will be rebated four-fifths of the Federal tax, whereas if he moves to Florida his estate will not be assessed by the state but will be charged in the amount of the entire Federal tax.

This made residence in Florida less desirable, so far as dodging inheritance taxes is concerned, and is understood to have had a prompt and marked effect upon the exodus of the wealthy to the Palmetto State.

Court Proceedings Started.

At nay rate, on May 25 last Governor John W. Martin, of Florida, issued an executive order directing the Attorney General of the state to institute the necessary proceedings in the Supreme Court of the United States to knock out the objectionable provision of the Federal revenue law. On June 1, Attorney General John B. Johnson, in open court, filed and presented a motion to be allowed to file an original bill of complaint against Secretary of the Treasury Andrew W. Mellon and Commissioner of Internal Revenue David H. Blair.

This proposed bill of complaint asks that the Supreme Court shall first, hold the inheritance tax provision of the Revenue Act of 1926 to be a violation of Section 8, Article 1, of the Constitution of the United States, and, second, grant to the State of Florida an injunction restraining Secretary Mellon and Commissioner Blair from collecting the Federal inheritance tax from decedents' estates in Florida and from taking any steps looking to the enforcement in Florida of the objectionable section of the revenue law.

The Supreme Court promptly issued a rule directed to Secretary Mellon and Commissioner Blair requiring them to show cause why the State of Florida should not be allowed to file its proposed bill of complaint, and this rule is returnable to October 4. The most recent development is the filing of a brief in the case by Attorney General Johnson and associate counsel for the State of Florida.

This brief declares that the sovereign rights of the State of Florida have been invaded and that the revenue law is a direct effort on the part of Congress, first, to coerce Florida into imposing and levying an estate or inheritance tax, and, second, "to penalize the State and its property and citizens for the failure upon the part of the State to impose a tax or excise on estates of decedents or inheritance tax."

Constitutionality Arguments.

It is argued that the revenue law, in the section complained of, violates that provision of the Constitution of the United States which requires that "all duties, imposts, and excises shall be uniform throughout the United States" because the State of Florida, having a provision in its Constitution prohibiting an inheritance tax, can not levy one and thereby put its citizens on an equality with citizens of other States and the District of Columbia in respect to the operation of the inheritance tax provision of the Federal revenue act.

Decisions of the Supreme Court are cited and numerous arguments are brought forward in support of the contentions that the Federal inheritance tax is an excise tax, and that the State

THE WILY TIGER

This one springs from French sources. A Frenchman was going to India. His friends told him that on no account must he fail to enjoy the tiger hunting.

"It's no trick at all," they said. "You tie a bleating goat in a thicket at night; its cries attract the tiger. Meanwhile you are in a tree nearby. When the beast arrives, aim between its eyes shining in the darkness and fire, and it will fall as though stricken by lightning."

On his return they asked how many tigers he had killed.

"None at all," he replied sadly. "They've become altogether too clever. They now travel in pairs, and each one closes an eye. So of course . . . ."

My Favorite Stories

By IRVIN S. COBB

THE WILY TIGER

This one springs from French sources. A Frenchman was going to India. His friends told him that on no account must he fail to enjoy the tiger hunting.

"It's no trick at all," they said. "You tie a bleating goat in a thicket at night; its cries attract the tiger. Meanwhile you are in a tree nearby. When the beast arrives, aim between its eyes shining in the darkness and fire, and it will fall as though stricken by lightning."

On his return they asked how many tigers he had killed.

"None at all," he replied sadly. "They've become altogether too clever. They now travel in pairs, and each one closes an eye. So of course . . . ."

LAUGHLINS PLAY HERE ON FRIDAY

The Laughlin Industrial league nine faces but one game this week, that being with Manager Frank Riley's Chester aggregation on the local grounds on Friday evening.

This game was to have been played on a earlier date but because of rain was postponed. Should Chester win, the victory will clinch the pennant for the last half of the season.

With the Laughlin nine as the winner in the first half, local baseball fans are promised a lively "little world's series."

20,000 WITNESS FAIR OPENING

Despite adverse weather conditions, approximately 20,000 persons attended the West Virginia state fair at Wheeling on Labor Day.

The exhibits this year are the largest in history.

Many people from this end of the county plan to attend the fair on Thursday. The Pennsylvania Railroad company has arranged to operate a special train from Bellaire to East Liverpool Thursday evening for the accommodation of state fair visitors. The train will leave the Bridgeport station at 7 p. m., arriving in East Liverpool at 9 o'clock.

EVERETT EVARTS HEADS TEACHERS

Everett Evarts, principal of the Newell High school, was elected president of the Hancock County Teachers' association at the closing session of the county institute at New Cumberland. Miss Alma Cunningham, Chester, was named vice president, while Miss Martha Newell, Chester, was chosen secretary-treasurer.

Miss Newell, Mrs. Mary Hughes, Weirton, and Superintendent C. D. Henderson of New Cumberland will represent the county teachers at the annual meeting of the West Virginia State Teachers' association which will be held at Clarksburg, during the Thanksgiving vacation.

Prof. O. D. Lambert spoke on the subject, "Elements in Teaching" at the closing session of the institute. Miss Rachel Baxter, Chester, presided.

Storm Caused Little Damage Here.

The severe rain storm which swept the upper section of the Ohio valley Saturday night caused but little damage in this end of Hancock county, according to a check-up today. Traffic over the Newell street car line was tied up for more than an hour Saturday night by a slide which covered the tracks near the end of the bridge on the West Virginia side of the river.

MACK'S PLAYS COST $50,000

Strand Company Has Fortune Tied Up in Productions.

The days of 20-cent sirloin steaks and 2-cent railroad fares seem, like the era of John Barleycorn, to have passed forever, if one is to judge by the lavish expenditure represented in the production of the plays used by Red Mack and his Players, now at the Strand Theatre for an indefinite run. The time when ten thousand dollars to twenty-five thousand dollars would equip a successful musical spectacle has likewise gone to come no more.

America's two foremost revues, Ziegfeld's "Follies" and the New York Winter Garden's "Passing Show," now cost an aggregate of a quarter of a million dollars to produce. In the plays to be presented by Red Mack and his Players during their run here, theatre-goers will see hundreds of beautiful costumes and a wealth of effects and trappings, all of which have nicked the check book of Red Mack to the tune of nearly $50,000.

LAUGHLINS PLAY HERE ON FRIDAY

The Laughlin Industrial league nine faces but one game this week, that being with Manager Frank Riley's Chester aggregation on the local grounds on Friday evening.

This game was to have been played on a earlier date but because of rain was postponed. Should Chester win, the victory will clinch the pennant for the last half of the season.

With the Laughlin nine as the winner in the first half, local baseball fans are promised a lively "little world's series."

20,000 WITNESS FAIR OPENING

Despite adverse weather conditions, approximately 20,000 persons attended the West Virginia state fair at Wheeling on Labor Day.

The exhibits this year are the largest in history.

Many people from this end of the county plan to attend the fair on Thursday. The Pennsylvania Railroad company has arranged to operate a special train from Bellaire to East Liverpool Thursday evening for the accommodation of state fair visitors. The train will leave the Bridgeport station at 7 p. m., arriving in East Liverpool at 9 o'clock.

EVERETT EVARTS HEADS TEACHERS

Everett Evarts, principal of the Newell High school, was elected president of the Hancock County Teachers' association at the closing session of the county institute at New Cumberland. Miss Alma Cunningham, Chester, was named vice president, while Miss Martha Newell, Chester, was chosen secretary-treasurer.

Miss Newell, Mrs. Mary Hughes, Weirton, and Superintendent C. D. Henderson of New Cumberland will represent the county teachers at the annual meeting of the West Virginia State Teachers' association which will be held at Clarksburg, during the Thanksgiving vacation.

Prof. O. D. Lambert spoke on the subject, "Elements in Teaching" at the closing session of the institute. Miss Rachel Baxter, Chester, presided.

Storm Caused Little Damage Here.

The severe rain storm which swept the upper section of the Ohio valley Saturday night caused but little damage in this end of Hancock county, according to a check-up today. Traffic over the Newell street car line was tied up for more than an hour Saturday night by a slide which covered the tracks near the end of the bridge on the West Virginia side of the river.

MACK'S PLAYS COST $50,000

Strand Company Has Fortune Tied Up in Productions.

The days of 20-cent sirloin steaks and 2-cent railroad fares seem, like the era of John Barleycorn, to have passed forever, if one is to judge by the lavish expenditure represented in the production of the plays used by Red Mack and his Players, now at the Strand Theatre for an indefinite run. The time when ten thousand dollars to twenty-five thousand dollars would equip a successful musical spectacle has likewise gone to come no more.

America's two foremost revues, Ziegfeld's "Follies" and the New York Winter Garden's "Passing Show," now cost an aggregate of a quarter of a million dollars to produce. In the plays to be presented by Red Mack and his Players during their run here, theatre-goers will see hundreds of beautiful costumes and a wealth of effects and trappings, all of which have nicked the check book of Red Mack to the tune of nearly $50,000.

Central Press Photos

What's in a name? the poet demands. Truly, what is? Above are two brilliant young women who bear the same cognomen, but how widely do their avocations and nationalities differ. Marguerite d'Alvarez, above, is an American contralto, while Marguerite d'Alvarez, inset, is the Spanish tennis champion.

There was delay and disappointment, and the official presentation was not made until July 4, 1884, in Paris.

COOLIDGE WILL KEEP HIS 'HANDS OFF' IN MEXICO

U. S. Policy Will Continue, is Definite Announcement.

HARMONY IS RULE

President Confers With Ambassador James R. Sheffield.

By GEORGE A. DURNO.

PAUL SMITHS, N. Y., Sept. 8. — The United States government will continue its "hands off" policy in Mexico, President Coolidge definitely announced today, following a long conference with Ambassador James R. Sheffield.

The president indicated that diplomatic relations between the two governments are very harmonious.

President Coolidge today gave Commissioner Henry H. Glassie, of Maryland, a recess reappointment to the tariff commission. It was said that the president decided to give him this "temporary" term because the senate committee now investigating the tariff commission may recommend that its personnel be reduced from six to four commissioners.

Glassie, a high tariff Democrat, was protested by Senator Bruce, Democrat, of Maryland, but the White House announced that a large number of Democratic senators had endorsed him unreservedly.

Brady was sentenced by Judge R. A. McCauley to be hanged on November 12.

C. Crabbe announced today.

Roumanian Queen Will Sail for U. S. Late in September

BUCHAREST, Sept. 8.—Queen Marie of Roumania, accompanied by her youngest daughter, Princess Illeana, will leave for Paris September 27, it was officially announced today.

After a stay of a few days they will sail by way of Cherbourf for the United States for a visit lasting two months. The announcement did not reveal the details of the program to be followed nor the purpose of the visit.

A Paris dispatch yesterday stated that Queen Marie would sail for the United States on the Majestic on September 29, having cancelled plans for an earlier sailing because she was unable to secure the royal suite on the liner.

Senator McKinley Shows Improvement; Physicians Hopeful

MARTINSVILLE, Ind., Sept. 8.—Continued improvement in the condition of Senator William B. McKinley, of Illinois, today led physicians to hope for his ultimate recovery.

Suffering from hypostatic pneumonia, which followed a severe attack of sciatic rheumatism, the aged statesman has been near death at the Home Lawn sanitarium here for the past ten days.

The alarming symptoms of high fever and a racing pulse have abated and the senator now has a chance to recover, according to Dr. R. W. Terhune, attending physician.

country under martial law. Primo de Rivera, to make the army more democratic, arranged to have officers elected, not ranked according to length of service. That started the row.

HOW it will end, nobody knows. The king's physical courage, shown in four recent attempts to assassinate him, will help, but it will not stop a revolution or a bullet.

PRESIDENT Coolidge's message to congress will recommend no new legislation about trusts. The president's friends say: "He wants business let alone."

ONE thing is certain, big business should be allowed to grow as big as it can. In Europe entire nations unions unite to build up gigantic trusts in steel and other products. It would not be healthy for America to hamper big organizations here.

IF the people haven't intelligence enough to protect themselves against a few big men, they certainly wouldn't have enough to protect themselves against the combination of many little men.

Steubenville Mayor And Chief Win Round In Ouster Battle

STEUBENVILE, O., Sept. 8.—Petitions seeking to oust Mayor John S. H. Patton and Chief of Police Blaine D. Carter from office were drawn here today, following the action of Judge A. S. Paisley upholding a technical motion in their behalf.

The judge ruled that Patton and Carter had not been legally served with notice following the filing of an ouster sent by attorneys for the ministerial alliance.

Following the ruling it was expected that Patton would take possession of the mayor's office, now held temporarily by J. C. Sander and that Carter would relieve Acting Chief Ross Cunningham.

The petitions charged the officials with neglect of duty. Judge Paisley's decision is expected temporarily to delay the ouster move.

Aged Ohio Woman Dies When Home is Fired by Lightning

NEW LEXINGTON, O., Sept. 8.—That Miss Sarah McDivit, 80 years old, who lived the life of a recluse in a small three-roomed house about 10 miles from here, died in a fire, started by lightning early Monday morning, and was cremated, was the verdict returned here today by Coroner Harold Mitchell.

Neighbors found the home burned to the ground. A search for the lone occupant failed to reveal a trace of her whereabouts. Bones, believed to be part of the skull and torso, found in the ruins were relieved to be those of the aged woman.

Coronach, Derby Winner, Captures St. Leger Stakes

DONCASTER, England, Sept. 8.—Lord Woolavington's Derby winner, Coronach, today won the St. Leger stakes, the last classic of the English flat racing season.

Lord Derby's Caisset was second and Foliation finished third.

The scattering prices of the first three were:

Coronach, 8 to 15.
Caisset, 100 to 9.
Foliation, 100 to 7.

Under English turf regulations the place and show horses pay one-quarter of the odds to win.

Ohio Republicans Mourn Death of Miner Norton, 69

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 8.—Republican politicians throughout the state today were expressing sorrow over the death here last night of Miner G. Norton, collector of customs and one of the most picturesque figures in local politics.

The veteran had spent 50 of his 69 years in public affairs. He had been ill the last few days of acute indigestion but was thought to have survived the attack. He collapsed at his home.

Funeral services, in which civic leaders and Knights Templar will participate, will be held here Friday with burial at Jefferson, his birthplace.

that Ware was traveling about 15 or 20 miles an hour. The sister of the accident victim said the automobile was traveling "fast," but the coroner ruled there was insufficient evidence to show that Ware was exceeding the speed limit at the time of the accident.

Funeral services for the child will be conducted at the home of the victim's aunt, Mrs. S. G. Wilson, Commerce street, Wellsville, tomorrow afternoon. Burial will be made in Spring Hill cemetery.

of Commerce, was suggested by the local chamber several weeks ago as a means of arousing interest in the impovement of the highway between East Liverpool and Washington.

First move for the improvement of the route was made at a meeting held in East Liverpool several years ago. The highway begins at Clev and and ends at Baltimore. The road is improved with the exception of a 40-mile stretch between Laughlin's corners and Washington.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—Some unsettlement was caused in the early trading today by the stock exchange's monthly report on brokers loans, showing an increase of $144,000,000 during August, in addition to which the reserve board reported an increase of $27,000,000 for the week ended September first. Both the industrial and railroad stocks were offered at lower prices, though the losses in the railroad shares were mostly fractional.

Another record-smashing week in freight car loading was reported by the American Railway association as of August 28, when loadings pushed through all previous records to reach the total of 1,236,233 cars.

But this information did not prevent fairly heavy offerings of the railroad stocks which had led the recent advance, with the exception of the Southwestern stocks, of which the strongest member was Kansas City Southern.

Call loans renewals were posted at 5 per cent. Passing of the Jordan Motor car dividend in Cleveland was followed by heavy selling of that stock, with a 2-point decline in price. Yellow Truck featured low-priced motors selling at the year's high price of 39¼.

Ex-Governor Cox Says War Debts Will Not be Fall Issue

LONDON, Sept. 8.—"The Democrats won't make an issue of war debts in the November senatorial elections, for the policy on war debts does not belong to politics."

Former Governor James M. Cox of Ohio, who has been spending a holiday in Europe, made this statement today prior to taking a boat-train to embark for New York on the S. S. Majestic.

The former presidential candidate who campaigned on the league issue, smiled as he said:

"The Democrats made the mistake once of making an issue of the league of nations."

The former governor said it was too early to make predictions regarding the next presidential election, but added that he is not impressed with the changes of either Governor Al Smith or William G. McAdoo.

COSHOCTON MAN G. O. P. LEADER

C. R. Frederickson Will Direct Ohio Campaign.

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 8.—Charles R. Frederickson, Coshocton, today was directing campaign efforts of Ohio republicans as chairman of the campaign committee of the Ohio state central committee. He was chosen late last night after the general committee had refused to accept the recommendation of George B. Harris, Cleveland attorney, by a subcommittee.

Mrs. Harriett Taylor Upton, Warren, and Judge Orville Smith, Cleveland, were named vice chairmen. Louis H. Brush, Salem, was chosen secretary-treasurer, and Harry D. Silver, Preble county, executive secretary.

Frederickson had been offered the post at the state platform convention but declined. The action of the committee in selecting him finally, however, was regarded in local circles as welding together the party again

The new chairman of the campaign committee was the unanimous choice of the nominees from the day of the primary.

Seventeen of the 22 women who will represent the congressional districts as members of the state executive committee, had been chosen and the remaining few will be named in a few days.

withdrawal by Spain in protest against the league's refusal to grant her demand for a permanent esat. Geneva heard reports that Spain had decided to resign from the league, but refused to be swayed from the course which had been laid by the leaders.

Protest Made By Norway.

The formal induction of Germany into the league is tentatively set for Friday as the German delegates to the league are expected to leave Berlin today.

Following the vote on the admission of Germany and the increasing of the non-permanent council seats, the assembly adjourned the morning session.

The opposition to the linking of the questions of Germany's admission and the reorganization of the council was led by Norway.

"A most solemn protest against any form of unconstitutional procedure and a fervent appeal to safeguard the rights of the assembly," was voiced by Dr. Nansen, head of the Norwegian delegation, at the opening of the asbly.

Nansen protested specifically against the linking of the question of German's election to a permanent seat in the league council with that of non-permanent seats. Both questions were presented to the assembly as a single motion for balloting.

The linking of the two questions, Nansen said, constituted a serious infringement of the liberty of members of the assembly, and menaced the future working of the league.

The Netherlands delegates echoed Nansen's protest.

Following this plea the assembly proceeded to vote, and the opposition disappeared.

Berlin Names Delegation.

BERLIN, Sept. 8.—President Hindenburg today authorized the appointment of a German delegation to the league of nations.

The president signed the appointments in Bavaria, where he is on a vacation, and dispatched the documents to Berlin by special messenger.

The German delegation is headed by Foreign Minister Stresemann and Ministers von Schubert and Gauss.

The German delegation is expected to leave for Geneva tonight.

Spanish Rumor Discounted.

MADRID, Sept. 8.—Reports that the Spanish cabinet has decided to resign from the league of nations are unconfirmed here and are discounted.

There is a general anticipation, however, that the cabinet will shortly take such action in view of the league of nations assembly action in voting Germany into the league and denying Spain's demand for a permanent seat in the council.

SHANGHAI, Sept. 8.—Three British officers were dead of wounds and another was in a critical condition today following engagements with Chinese troops on the Yangtsze river, according to word reaching here.

The dead:

Gunboat in Action.

In addition to the officers killed and wounded four seamen were killed in the Yangtsze river battle and 14 others were wounded.

The river engagement with the Chinese troops developed when the Cockchafer went to the assisatnce of two British cargo boats, that had been seized by the soldiery of General Yang Sen, an adherent of Marshal Wu Pei Fu.

When the British consul at Chungking and officers from the Cockchafer failed in negotiations for the release of the seized steamers, a naval expedition was immediately forwarded by Commander Farley to rescue the officers of the seized cargo boats.

Chinese troops opened fire on Farley and 40 members of the expedition when they attempted to rescue the officers. The gunboat Cockchafer, standing by, immediately went into action.

Executive Clemency Only Way of Escape For "Boy Slayer"

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 8.—Denial of the court of common pleas here today of a motion by attorneys for Emmanuel Ross, Cleveland "boy slayer," to reopen the case here left but one avenue of escape from the electric chair open to Ross.

Unless Governor Donahey extends executive clemency, Ross must die in the electric chair at Columbus Friday night.

Ross was convicted of the murder of Isidore Steeck, a grocer, in an attempted hold-up last November.

Claim of Ross' attorneys that the youth was only 17, instead of 18, as testified during the trial, when the murder was committed, was rejected by Judge McMahon.

CONVICT, WHO ATTACKED ST. LOUIS WOMEN, MAY BE TOLEDO "CLUBBER"

Death Penalty Will be Demanded for "Lifer" Who Admits He Lured Victims to Vacant Houses.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 8.—Detective Chief Kaiser declared today he will urge the circuit attorney's office to demand the death penalty for John Sexton, 29, escaped Mississippi life term convict who has confessed, according to police, to attacking several women he lured to vacant houses here.

Sexton, police, said, freely admitted the alleged attacks, including one on a 15-year-old girl, and offered to plead guilty if assured he would be given a life sentence instead of the extreme penalty.

Police here said today they have forwarded Sexton's picture and fingerprints to authorities at Toledo, Ohio, in the belief he had some connection with the clubbing of a number of women there several months ago.

"Clubber" Never Identified.

TOLEDO, O., Sept. 8.—Toledo police officials today said they had not received from St. Louis police finger prints and a description of John Sexton, 29, held there in connection with assaults upon St. Louis women.

They declared, however, that a thorough investigation would be made immediately upon receipt of the necessary information from St. Louis, in an effort to connect Sexton with a series of murders and outrages upon women in Toledo by a "clubber," who terrorized the city for a year.

The Toledo "clubber," never identified, began his reign of terror last August, with an attack upon Mrs. Lydia Baumgartner, beating her to death. The slaying of Mrs. Emma Hatfield, 48, and several other attacks upon other women, which did not result fatally, were all attributed to the mysterious "clubber."

Several Toledo victims have indicated to police that they may be able to identify the assailant.

Government Opens Case Against Two Former Officials

NEW YORK, Sept. 8. — United States Attorney Emory R. Buckner today opened the government's case against Harry M. Daugherty, former attorney general, and Thomas W. Miller, former alien property custodian.

The two men are charged with "defrauding the government of their unprejudiced and unbiased services," through the return of $7,000,000 in assets to the American Metals company, a German-owned concern, for a consideration of $441,000 in cash and liberty bonds.

Buckner explained that the declaration of war by the United States against Germany, April 6, 1917, is an important event in this case, as it was after that date that the "trading with the enemy" act was passed.

President Confers With Ambassador James R. Sheffield.

By GEORGE A. DURNO.

PAUL SMITHS, N. Y., Sept. 8. — The United States government will continue its "hands off" policy in Mexico, President Coolidge definiteiy announced today, following a long conference with Ambassador James R. Sheffield.

The president indicated that diplomatic relations between the two governments are very harmonious.

President Coolidge today gave Commissioner Henry H. Glassie, of Maryland, a recess reappointment to the tariff commission. It was said that the president decided to give him this "temporary" term because the senate committee now investigating the tariff commission may recommend that its personnel be reduced from six to four commissioners.

Glassie, a high tariff Democrat, was protested by Senator Bruce, Democrat, of Maryland, but the White House announced that a large number of Democratic senators had endorsed him unreservedly.

country under martial law. Primo de Rivera, to make the army more democratic, arranged to have officers elected, not ranked according to length of service. That started the row.

HOW it will end, nobody knows. The king's physical courage, shown in four recent attempts to assassinate him, will help, but it will not stop a revolution or a bullet.

PRESIDENT Coolidge's message to congress will recommend no new legislation about trusts. The president's friends say: "He wants business let alone."

ONE thing is certain, big business should be allowed to grow as big as it can. In Europe entire nations unions unite to build up gigantic trusts in steel and other products. It would not be healthy for America to hamper big organizations here.

IF the people haven't intelligence enough to protect themselves against a few big men, they certainly wouldn't have enough to protect themselves against the combination of many little men.

Steubenville Mayor And Chief Win Round In Ouster Battle

STEUBENVILE, O., Sept. 8.—Petitions seeking to oust Mayor John S. H. Patton and Chief of Police Blaine D. Carter from office were drawn here today, following the action of Judge A. S. Paisley upholding a technical motion in their behalf.

The judge ruled that Patton and Carter had not been legally served with notice following the filing of an ouster sent by attorneys for the ministerial alliance.

Following the ruling it was expected that Patton would take possession of the mayor's office, now held temporarily by J. C. Sander and that Carter would relieve Acting Chief Ross Cunningham.

The petitions charged the officials with neglect of duty. Judge Paisley's decision is expected temporarily to delay the ouster move.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—Some unsettlement was caused in the early trading today by the stock exchange's monthly report on brokers loans, showing an increase of $144,000,000 during August, in addition to which the reserve board reported an increase of $27,000,000 for the week ended September first. Both the industrial and railroad stocks were offered at lower prices, though the losses in the railroad shares were mostly fractional.

Another record-smashing week in freight car loading was reported by the American Railway association as of August 28, when loadings pushed through all previous records to reach the total of 1,236,233 cars.

But this information did not prevent fairly heavy offerings of the railroad stocks which had led the recent advance, with the exception of the Southwestern stocks, of which the strongest member was Kansas City Southern.

Call loans renewals were posted at 5 per cent. Passing of the Jordan Motor car dividend in Cleveland was followed by heavy selling of that stock, with a 2-point decline in price. Yellow Truck featured low-priced motors selling at the year's high price of 39¼.

withdrawal by Spain in protest against the league's refusal to grant her demand for a permanent esat. Geneva heard reports that Spain had decided to resign from the league, but refused to be swayed from the course which had been laid by the leaders.

Protest Made By Norway.

The formal induction of Germany into the league is tentatively set for Friday as the German delegates to the league are expected to leave Berlin today.

Following the vote on the admission of Germany and the increasing of the non-permanent council seats, the assembly adjourned the morning session.

The opposition to the linking of the questions of Germany's admission and the reorganization of the council was led by Norway.

"A most solemn protest against any form of unconstitutional procedure and a fervent appeal to safeguard the rights of the assembly," was voiced by Dr. Nansen, head of the Norwegian delegation, at the opening of the asbly.

Nansen protested specifically against the linking of the question of German's election to a permanent seat in the league council with that of non-permanent seats. Both questions were presented to the assembly as a single motion for balloting.

The linking of the two questions, Nansen said, constituted a serious infringement of the liberty of members of the assembly, and menaced the future working of the league.

The Netherlands delegates echoed Nansen's protest.

Following this plea the assembly proceeded to vote, and the opposition disappeared.

Berlin Names Delegation.

BERLIN, Sept. 8.—President Hindenburg today authorized the appointment of a German delegation to the league of nations.

The German delegation is expected to leave for Geneva tonight.

Spanish Rumor Discounted.

MADRID, Sept. 8.—Reports that the Spanish cabinet has decided to resign from the league of nations are unconfirmed here and are discounted.

There is a general anticipation, however, that the cabinet will shortly take such action in view of the league of nations assembly action in voting Germany into the league and denying Spain's demand for a permanent seat in the council.

The river engagement with the Chinese troops developed when the Cockchafer went to the assisatnce of two British cargo boats, that had been seized by the soldiery of General Yang Sen, an adherent of Marshal Wu Pei Fu.

When the British consul at Chungking and officers from the Cockchafer failed in negotiations for the release of the seized steamers, a naval expedition was immediately forwarded by Commander Farley to rescue the officers of the seized cargo boats.

Chinese troops opened fire on Farley and 40 members of the expedition when they attempted to rescue the officers. The gunboat Cockchafer, standing by, immediately went into action.

CONVICT, WHO ATTACKED ST. LOUIS WOMEN, MAY BE TOLEDO "CLUBBER"

Death Penalty Will be Demanded for "Lifer" Who Admits He Lured Victims to Vacant Houses.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 8.—Detective Chief Kaiser declared today he will urge the circuit attorney's office to demand the death penalty for John Sexton, 29, escaped Mississippi life term convict who has confessed, according to police, to attacking several women he lured to vacant houses here.

Sexton, police, said, freely admitted the alleged attacks, including one on a 15-year-old girl, and offered to plead guilty if assured he would be given a life sentence instead of the extreme penalty.

Police here said today they have forwarded Sexton's picture and fingerprints to authorities at Toledo, Ohio, in the belief he had some connection with the clubbing of a number of women there several months ago.

"Clubber" Never Identified.

TOLEDO, O., Sept. 8.—Toledo police officials today said they had not received from St. Louis police fingerprints and a description of John Sexton, 29, held there in connection with assaults upon St. Louis women.

They declared, however, that a thorough investigation would be made immediately upon receipt of the necessary information from St. Louis, in an effort to connect Sexton with a series of murders and outrages upon women in Toledo by a "clubber," who terrorized the city for a year.

The Toledo "clubber," never identified, began his reign of terror last August, with an attack upon Mrs. Lydia Baumgartner, beating her to death. The slaying of Mrs. Emma Hatfield, 48, and several other attacks upon other women, which did not result fatally, were all attributed to the mysterious "clubber."

Several Toledo victims have indicated to police that they may be able to identify the assailant.

Man Has Miraculous Escape

"I was told by our family physician that I could not live without an operation, as my liver and gall sack were in such a condition. I set the day to go to the hospital, but then I saw the advertisement of MAYR'S. Since taking it I am feeling like a two-year-old, I am sure I never could have survived an operation." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. BEN LYON STAR IN 'THE SAVAGE'

First National Film Booked at American Theatre.

Ben Lyon is wondering whether or not it pays to play the "hero" in a picture. The picture was "The Savage," which opens at the American Thursday.

You see, Ben who plays the title role, was down in Florida running around garbed in a goat skin and bare feet. For days he dashed about in the sand of the seashore and the undergrowth of swampy sections that resembles a section of the jungle. Ben's feet were all cut up, and so was Ben, for that matter. But such is art.

However, the straw that broke the camel's back, as it were, in Ben's case came after Ben had cavorted for more than a week and devoted his evenings to patching up scarred feet and anointing sunburned spots with soothing lotions. Then followed a scene in which Sam Hardy, the heavy, sits in ease and comfort beneath a palm tree. Before Sam is a table overflowing with ice, seltzer water, tall glasses and the liquid to put in them. Sam sits and drinks and fans himself. But poor Ben during all this was forced to stay out in the hot sun eating bananas. Most of a day was thus spent.

"I wish that fellow Hardy had this little role for a day or so," declared Ben when Director Newmeyer called it a day.

723 PUPILS ARE ENROLLED

New High Mark Attained in Chester Schools.

With 723 pupils registered, enrollment in the Chester public schools for the first day of the fall term reached a new high mark, Superintendent Albert Rabenstein announced today.

The new enrollment not only set a new record for the elementary schools but also for the high school, where 169 pupils are registered.

For the first time in many years there was no congestion in the schools yesterday. The congested condition was relieved last winter following the completion of the new high school building at Sixth street and Carolina avenue.

Class work was started today. The morning session yesterday was for registration, after which pupils were dismissed.

32 SEEK PLACES ON GRID TEAM

Thirty-two candidates for the Chester high school football squad answered the call of Prof. Ray C. Wilde, coach, for the initial practice session on the high school lot last night.

This is the largest field of candidates to report for the football squad, and from this number Chester promises a speedy eleven this fall. Workouts will be held every evening.

The first game is with Wellsville at Chester on Saturday, October 2.

CLINTON ROAD WORK IS RUSHED

Pouring of concrete on the west end of the new road which is being built between Clinton and Laughlin's Corners is to be started this week by H. E. Bunce, Olean, N. Y., contractor. Concrete work on the eastern section of the job was started a week ago.

Grading on the five and three-fourths mile section of the road from Laughlin's Corners eastward was completed last week. Sand for the surfacing work is being hauled from a river derrick at the old ferry boat landing in the lower end of Chester, while crushed stone is being received by rail at the local freight station.

The contractors plan to pour from 800 to 1,500 feet of concrete per day, the distance being determined by the weather conditions. With good weather prevailing it is believed that the last of the concrete will be poured within three weeks.

Five steam shovels were used on the job which leads from Clinton westward and connects with the Bunce contract. Material is being delivered on a private siding which connects with a coal mine between Imperial and Clinton.

Both jobs will be completed and the road opened to travel by the middle or latter part of November. Pennsylvania road officials declare. The road will be closed to travel until three weeks after the last of the concrete has been poured.

K. T. K. TEAM HERE THURSDAY

Chester Will Play Postponed Game on Home Lot.

As the result of action taken by executives of the City Industrial league last evening, Chester will meet the Knowles, Taylor & Knowles squad at Smith field at 5:30 o'clock tomorrow evening. This game was postponed several weeks ago on account of rain.

By defeating the Turk-Nash outfit last evening, Riley's outfit can do no worse than tie for the league leadership.

Chester fans are confident of a victory for their team over the K. T. & K. nine inasmuch as the East Liverpool potters have lost every game the last half of the season. Should the East Liverpool nine do the unexpected, the locals will be forced to meet the Homer Laughlin outfit in another postponed game at Newell Friday evening.

Initial battle in the "baby world's series" will likely take place Saturday afternoon, when Laughlin will probably meet Chester in a five-game series to determine the district championship. League officials are to meet after Thursday night's game to complete arrangements for the series.

GOVERNOR GORE'S MOTHER BURIED

Mrs. Marietta Payne Rogers Gore, mother of Governor Howard M. Gore, was buried at Clarksburg yesterday afternoon in the mausoleum of the Masonic cemetery following services from the Hepzibah Baptist church, near the Gore homestead, two miles from Clarksburg. Fifteen hundred were present.

The Rev. E. O. Stump, pastor of the Hepzibah church, where Mrs. Gore worshipped, conducted a short prayer service at 10:30 a. m. at the home, where Mrs. Gore died last Saturday, and then the party moved to the church, where the minister preached the funeral sermon.

A guard of honor composed of members of the state police led the procession. The honorary pallbearers were members of the Harrison county chapter of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, of which Mrs. Gore was a charter member.

SMITH'S CATTLE PRIZE WINNERS

"John Milton," two-year-old Hereford bull, owned by C. A. Smith, proprietor of the Hillcrest Farm, near Pughtown, carried off three ribbons at the Ohio state fair at Columbus last week, according an announcement made today.

This entry was the first in his class and was also the grand champion and the senior champion. Other awards won by the herd of cattle entered at the Columbus fair by Smith included three firsts, two seconds, two fourths, two sixths, one seventh, none ninth, one tenth, and one eleventh.

Turk-Nash Hopes Fade In Defeat At Hands of Riley Tossers, 4-0

DESPITE an injured wrist, twisted out of place after being struck by a ball fouled from his bat, "Mike" Cebula went out in the fifth inning of yesterday's city league tilt between Chester and Turk-Nash and crashed one of "Sonny" Deshler's offerings to deep middle, scoring Green, who had previously doubled, and sending in the winning run. Three more runs that were not needed were registered in the growing darkness of the first half of the seventh while the motors went scoreless all the way. The final count was 4-0.

The victory placed Chester within one game of the second half championship and eligibility for the baby world's series" with Laughlin, the gonfalon grabbers of the first section of 1926 play.

Presided over by Messrs. Stoffard and Fleming, Midland, (Pa.) arbitrators, the contest was a battle throughout, with honors even until Greene and Cebula bunched their hits with damaging results to Turk-Nash.

But Cebula's rap was costly in that it took him from the game. He went to the hilltop at the outset of the second half of the fifth only to return to the bench without serving a ball. He was given medical attention by Dr. J. L. Pyle.

The youthful P. Bennett was brought in from the bullpen. He was in rare form and his curve was breaking properly. He finished the three innings with but two hits. He fanned six during the interin in which he understudied "Mike."

Turk-Nash, playing brilliantly in the field, were within one hit of evening the score or leading the contest twice during the regime of Bennett. In the fifth with one out, D. Morgan drew the only pass he allowed. He stole second and reached third on the wild peg the pitcher made to catch him off second but here the young twirler merely tightened and fanned J. Watson and the heavy hitting Deshler in turn.

In the sixth after E. Bayley had skied to F. Marshall McConnell sent a grounder to Heckathorne. It was an easy blow but was booted by the infielder. McConnell then stole second.

But with Turk-Nash devotees yelling lustily for the swat that would tie the score A. Bayley and R. Pollock went out on strikes.

Deshler lost control momentarily in the first of the seventh. He hit Potts, first up, in the side. Then F. Marshall beat out an infield drive that he deflected and which hit the umpire, putting two on. Greene, however, fanned. But again he lapsed and walked P. Bennett, cluttering the paths. Evans, who had twice been struck out and walked once, drove the ball safely to left field, scoring Potts and F. Marshall, while P. Bennett reached third from where he counted as Talbott dropped a throw to nip Evans.

Recovering himself, after Evans stole second and a passed ball put him on third, Deshler struck out Heckathorne and P. Cebula in turn.

It was now practically too dark to play but Turk-Nash, determined, came to their final bats. Schneidmiller sent a fly back of second which L. McMath failed to see and it went for a safety. Talbott and D. Morgan fanned in turn, thus maintaining P. Bennett's record of two strikeouts per inning. J. Watson sent a drive through the infield to right, sending the catcher to third. The situation was up to Deshler. He swung hard, drove to Greene, who assisted to Heckathorne and the game was over.

Inability to hit spelled the downfall of Turk-Nash.

At the outset of the game for a half inning every Turk-Nash player started out of position because of the lateness of D. Morgan's arrival. J. Watson took his place at third, E. Bayley succeeding him at short, A. Bayley going to second while McConnell went to middle, R. Pollock to left and "Cracker" Howell to right. At the outset of the second all returned to their places.

E. Bayley fielded in brilliant fashion. He made a great stop off L. McMath's bat in the first and threw him out. In the fourth he ran back and captured P. Cebula's fly on which he somersaulted backward. For a time he appeared hurt. He also retired M. Cebula on an attempted steal by clever work.

Greene fielded well at third where he had four assists.

P. Cebula, fresh from the conclusion of his engagement at Uniontown, Pa., returned to the Chester lineup.

HIGH GRIDDERS RESUME DRILLS

Will Hold Workouts Temporarily at City Park.

Routine drill occupied the attention of high school gridders as they got down to work last evening at City Park in their first practice session following the opening of school.

In view of the fact that the attention of Coach George Kidder was occupied largely in the distribution of uniforms and equipment, the workout was left in charge of Assistant Coach Bill Cox, former Muskingum center, and Carl McCutcheon, of this city, ex-Pitt halfback.

Cox took the linemen and McCutcheon the candidates for ball toting jobs and put them through their paces.

The majority of the squad has the benefit of the training camp period and the kinks are pretty well ironed out, enabling the mentors to take up tactics earlier than usual.

With the job of distributing equipment out of the way, the squad will likely get down to practice work in earnest this afternoon.

Sessions are being held at city park temporarily on account of the condition of Patterson Field, covered with water as a result of Saturday's heavy rain.

Fight Results

AT NEW YORK—Tommy (Kid) Murphy, Trenton, N. J., lightweight, drew with Billy White, Jersey City, 10 rounds.

Charlie Rosen, New York lightweight, beat Joie Kaufman, 10 rounds.

Murray Elkins, New York lightweight, beat Les Murray, of New Zealand, 10 rounds.

AT PROVIDENCE, R. I.—Bushey Graham, Utica, N. Y., bantamweight, won from Young Montreal, Providence, 12 rounds.

AT NEWARK, N. J.—Paul Doyle, New York welterweight, beat Jack McFarland, Newark, 10 rounds.

AT TROY, N. Y.—Young Tesio, Troy N. Y., welterweight, beat Red Herring, Gulfport, Miss., in the fifth round when the latter suffered a broken rib.

Reds in Second Place With Pirates Trailing.

The Cardinals lead Cincinnati by two games this morning in the National league race, while Pittsburgh, four and a half games behind St. Louis, apparently is out of the race. The Cubs, who defeated the Reds yesterday while Pittsburgh was losing to St. Louis, are now on the heels of the Pirates.

The Yankees increased their lead to seven full games by trouncing the Red Sox, while Cleveland lost to the Browns for the second game in succession. The Yanks can clinch the flag by winning thirteen of their remaining contests, even if the Indians should win all of their nineteen games.

Boston's seventeenth straight defeat stretched the Yankees' lead over Cleveland to seven games as the Hugmen triumphed, 4 to 2. Shocker was hit freely but put on the brakes quickly when the bases became populated.

When the feet are spread for a low ball the player should also design to take somewhat shorter back swing.

This will be automatic, in a way, because the wider foundation for the swing will bring about a considerable straining against the body if any long back swing is attempted. The short back swing, with the feet well apart, flattens out the arc of the swing as shown in the sketch. When the feet are closer together, for a high ball, the arc of the swing is as shown in the dotted lines. In the first, the clubhead takes the ball while it is still going downward toward the bottom of the forward arc, while for the high ball the clubhead catches the ball just after it has started upward from the bottom of the forward arc.

After losing to the Giants, 7 to 2, the Braves came back like an echo and won the nightcap, 7 to 5, with a four run rally in the eighth.

Wayland Dean pitched the Phils out of the cellar, blanking Brooklyn, 5 to 0.

George Uhle failed as the Indians lost to the Browns, 8 to 3. Karr twirled for the winners.

Chester Needs Only One More Victory To Clinch Pennant Race

Decisive Contest Will be Staged Thursday at Smith Field With K. T. K.; Chester Conquest Will End Second Half Season.

FOLLOWING Chester's victory over Turk-Nash last evening, decision was reacheed by City Industrial league officials and team managers for the playing on Thursday evening at Chester of the postponed game the West Virginians have with K.T.K.

A victory for Riley's club in this event will cinch the second half pennant.

Should Turk-Nash win all their five remaining games and Victory Motors all their six contests, the clubs could do no more than tie with Chester should Chester lose the three postponed games on its schedule.

Consequently one game will give Chester the flag.

As a result it will not be necessary to play off all the remaining postponed games and will make possible the opening of the series on next Saturday, league officials considering it advisable to play the series before bad weather starts.

In the event that K. T. K. wins Thursday's game Chester will be compelled to play another of its postponed contests.

Should Chester win, details of the series will be completed that evening and machinery set in operation for the beginning of the title clashes on Saturday.

Only Two Factors In Way of Bout Between Dempsey and Harry Wills

By David J. Walsh.

ATLANTIC CITY, Sept. 8.—Jack Dempsey will meet Harry Wills in the long awaited battle of the ages at Tia Juana within a matter of months, according to a story which broke within the champion's training camp today. There are only two factors that stand between the two greatest heavyweights of the modern era. They are the signature of Wills to a Dempsey contract and the possibility, however vague, that the champion might muff his chance against Gene Tunney on the night of September 23.

According to Gene Normile, manager or what not of the heavyweight champion, the second possibility has a stronger chance than the first. Normile says that Wills has set a prohibitive price on his head, so to speak.

"He wants $300,000 as I understand it," the champion's manager declared. "That's entirely too much for any challenger. We are fair enough when it comes to that, but if Wills really wants nothing but a shot at the title, as he has been claiming, he will sign up for whatever he can get. Every challenger has done that since time immemorial."

"We are willing to give Wills a better price than any challenger has received to date. Dempsey took his almost for nothing, because he felt he could win and earn his money afterward.

"If Wills is sincere, he will feel the same way. If not, we can only assume that he is after the loser's end."

Normile talked only after some persuasive conversation from the writer. He intimated that he preferred to await the arrival of James Coffroth, from the west, before committing himself either one way or the other. Coffroth was the Tex Rickard of his day, which was the day of old championship battles in California. Incidentally, it might be mentioned that Normile is one of Coffroth's very bright young men.

Therefore, if Normile says that Dempsey is willing, one might very well judge that not only the champion but the promoter is amenable to the proposition. The only thing missing is the challenger and, if all he wants is a fight with the champion, that fight is here.

This, at least, was the story in the Dempsey camp this morning. Maybe Wills has a better proposition he can propound to the New York state athletic commission. Maybe Normile is merely talking to hear his teeth rattle. Anyhow, I would say off-hand that a proposition from Jim Coffroth, if made, would be a better bet than any that might come from Miles, Mich., and way points.

The Pirates walked the plank with amazing docility as Willie Sherdel of the Cardinals whitewashed them, 8 to 0. Hornsby, playing with an injured spine, drove in three runs and Chick Hafey got three hits.

The White Sox downed the Tigers again, 4 to 2, sweeping the series and drawing close to fifth place. Bud Clancy, White Sox rookie, was the big noise with a single, a double and a triple.

Because of Critz's fumbles and their inability to bunch hits off Kaufmann and Bush, the Reds lost to the Cubs, 8 to 5. The Reds now trail the Cards by two games.

German Hero Who Sank 13 Vessels to Visit the U. S.

Count Felix von Luckner, commander of the German raider "Seeadler" (Sea Eagle), which sank 13 ships in two months during the war, will come to the United States in October on a trip around the world. He will lecture in this country.

Flock of Ringers Worth "Five Grand" To Horseshoe Fan

CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—"Five grand they can," said William "Big Bill" Thompson, former mayor of Chicago.

"Five grand they can't," said Carter Blatchford, prominent local sportsman.

But they did! That's why "Big Bill" is $5,000 to the good today.

The wager was made on the ancient and honorable game of horseshoes.

Thompson bet Blatchford that Hansford Jackson and his brother Carroll, champions of Cook county, could throw 50 ringers in a 50-point game.

The contest was held last night at Rainbow Gardens. The Jacksons threw 54 ringers and won the game, 54 to 46. Fifteen hundred fans watched the match.

GENE PUMMELS HIS PARTNERS

Loses Placidity as He Sharpens Up His Punches.

STROUDSBURG, Pa., Sept. 8.—Placidity has gone from the face of Gene Tunney. This handsome pugilist-philosopher who is usually so calm, so lacking in any expression save one of peace as he goes about the boxing that is preparing him for his attempt to defeat Jack Dempsey, snarls a bit now as he performs his task. He wrinkles his forehead, draws down his brows, and niffs and curls his upper lip up over his teeth and gums as he walks into his sparring mates both hands blazing.

Tunney is in excellent physical condition now so he is seeking nothing but sharpness in his boxing, speed of hand and foot and an especially potent punch. He is going after these things in a business like and vicious manner. He can get them only by punching his partners, so punch them he does. He still carefully refrains from knocking them over but he doesn't worry much about hurting them.

Gene jabbed Billy Vidabeck with all the power in his brawny arms and shoulders yesterday. He hooked him with left hands to the body and crossed damaging rights to the Jersey City boy's jaw.

Harold Mays had no easy job either. Harold is especially valuable to Tunney because he hooks a left hand in a manner not unlike the Dempsey delivery. Mays swung many a left at Tunney yesterday but Gene either moved out of the way of the punches or flashed terrific straight rights to the jaw inside the hooks.

Haskin's Letter

of Florida has a right in her sovereign capacity to question and attack its constitutionality and validity.

"It would be difficult to conceive of a stronger case than the instant one," says the brief, in summary. "The Constitution of the State of Florida prohibits the Legislature of Florida forever in the future from levying an inheritance tax. The State's finances and condition are such that it does not need an inheritance tax. The State does not owe one dollar; does not have one cent of bonded indebtedness; has so wisely administered its domestic affairs that it had as of the 1st of June, $15,000,000 of cash in the state treasury."

The fact that Congress has provided for rebates of the Federal inheritance tax in certain cases is pointed to as proof that "the Federal Government itself does not need the tax, nor has it imposed the same for the purpose of raising revenue or for the carrying on on of the operations of its Government, but for the sole and express purpose of compelling and coercing those States which do not have state inheritance taxes to levy the same."

And as a final word Attorney General Johnson says: "If this estate tax is constitutional and valid, then any tax imposed under the provisions of the Constitution of the United States could be rebated. In this manner a majority of the States could combine and force a minority of the States to carry the burden of the expenses of the Federal Government. A majority of the States can combine and absolutely destroy the sovereignity of a minority of the States, and in so doing would destroy their own sovereignity."

The only other States that do not have inheritance taxes are Alabama and Nevada. They have not as yet joined Florida in her fight on the new Federal law.

Only Two Factors In Way of Bout Between Dempsey and Harry Wills

By David J. Walsh.

ATLANTIC CITY, Sept. 8.—Jack Dempsey will meet Harry Wills in the long awaited battle of the ages at Tia Juana within a matter of months, according to a story which broke within the champion's training camp today. There are only two factors that stand between the two greatest heavyweights of the modern era. They are the signature of Wills to a Dempsey contract and the possibility, however vague, that the champion might muff his chance against Gene Tunney on the night of September 23.

According to Gene Normile, manager or what not of the heavyweight champion, the second possibility has a stronger chance than the first. Normile says that Wills has set a prohibitive price on his head, so to speak.

"He wants $300,000 as I understand it," the champion's manager declared. "That's entirely too much for any challenger. We are fair enough when it comes to that, but if Wills really wants nothing but a shot at the title, as he has been claiming, he will sign up for whatever he can get. Every challenger has done that since time immemorial."

"We are willing to give Wills a better price than any challenger has received to date. Dempsey took his almost for nothing, because he felt he could win and earn his money afterward.

"If Wills is sincere, he will feel the same way. If not, we can only assume that he is after the loser's end."

Normile talked only after some persuasive conversation from the writer. He intimated that he preferred to await the arrival of James Coffroth, from the west, before committing himself either one way or the other. Coffroth was the Tex Rickard of his day, which was the day of old championship battles in California. Incidentally, it might be mentioned that Normile is one of Coffroth's very bright young men.

Therefore, if Normile says that Dempsey is willing, one might very well judge that not only the champion but the promoter is amenable to the proposition. The only thing missing is the challenger and, if all he wants is a fight with the champion, that fight is here.

This, at least, was the story in the Dempsey camp this morning. Maybe Wills has a better proposition he can propound to the New York state athletic commission. Maybe Normile is merely talking to hear his teeth rattle. Anyhow, I would say off-hand that a proposition from Jim Coffroth, if made, would be a better bet than any that might come from Miles, Mich., and way points.

The Pirates walked the plank with amazing docility as Willie Sherdel of the Cardinals whitewashed them, 8 to 0. Hornsby, playing with an injured spine, drove in three runs and Chick Hafey got three hits.

The White Sox downed the Tigers again, 4 to 2, sweeping the series and drawing close to fifth place. Bud Clancy, White Sox rookie, was the big noise with a single, a double and a triple.

Because of Critz's fumbles and their inability to bunch hits off Kaufmann and Bush, the Reds lost to the Cubs, 8 to 5. The Reds now trail the Cards by two games.

German Hero Who Sank 13 Vessels to Visit the U. S.

Flock of Ringers Worth "Five Grand" To Horseshoe Fan

CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—"Five grand they can," said William "Big Bill" Thompson, former mayor of Chicago.

"Five grand they can't," said Carter Blatchford, prominent local sportsman.

But they did! That's why "Big Bill" is $5,000 to the good today.

The wager was made on the ancient and honorable game of horseshoes.

Thompson bet Blatchford that Hansford Jackson and his brother Carroll, champions of Cook county, could throw 50 ringers in a 50-point game.

The contest was held last night at Rainbow Gardens. The Jacksons threw 54 ringers and won the game, 54 to 46. Fifteen hundred fans watched the match.

GENE PUMMELS HIS PARTNERS

Loses Placidity as He Sharpens Up His Punches.

STROUDSBURG, Pa., Sept. 8.—Placidity has gone from the face of Gene Tunney. This handsome pugilist-philosopher who is usually so calm, so lacking in any expression save one of peace as he goes about the boxing that is preparing him for his attempt to defeat Jack Dempsey, snarls a bit now as he performs his task. He wrinkles his forehead, draws down his brows, and niffs and curls his upper lip up over his teeth and gums as he walks into his sparring mates both hands blazing.

Tunney is in excellent physical condition now so he is seeking nothing but sharpness in his boxing, speed of hand and foot and an especially potent punch. He is going after these things in a business like and vicious manner. He can get them only by punching his partners, so punch them he does. He still carefully refrains from knocking them over but he doesn't worry much about hurting them.

Gene jabbed Billy Vidabeck with all the power in his brawny arms and shoulders yesterday. He hooked him with left hands to the body and crossed damaging rights to the Jersey City boy's jaw.

Harold Mays had no easy job either. Harold is especially valuable to Tunney because he hooks a left hand in a manner not unlike the Dempsey delivery. Mays swung many a left at Tunney yesterday but Gene either moved out of the way of the punches or flashed terrific straight rights to the jaw inside the hooks.

Haskin's Letter

of Florida has a right in her sovereign capacity to question and attack its constitutionality and validity.

"It would be difficult to conceive of a stronger case than the instant one," says the brief, in summary. "The Constitution of the State of Florida prohibits the Legislature of Florida forever in the future from levying an inheritance tax. The State's finances and condition are such that it does not need an inheritance tax. The State does not owe one dollar; does not have one cent of bonded indebtedness; has so wisely administered its domestic affairs that it had as of the 1st of June, $15,000,000 of cash in the state treasury."

The fact that Congress has provided for rebates of the Federal inheritance tax in certain cases is pointed to as proof that "the Federal Government itself does not need the tax, nor has it imposed the same for the purpose of raising revenue or for the carrying on on of the operations of its Government, but for the sole and express purpose of compelling and coercing those States which do not have state inheritance taxes to levy the same."

And as a final word Attorney General Johnson says: "If this estate tax is constitutional and valid, then any tax imposed under the provisions of the Constitution of the United States could be rebated. In this manner a majority of the States could combine and force a minority of the States to carry the burden of the expenses of the Federal Government. A majority of the States can combine and absolutely destroy the sovereignty of a minority of the States, and in so doing would destroy their own sovereignty."

The only other States that do not have inheritance taxes are Alabama and Nevada. They have not as yet joined Florida in her fight on the new Federal law.

The "Perfect Blonde"

Metropolitan Opera Stars On Ceramic Theatre Program

Shipping companies have decisively cut freight rates between England and Austria.

Of 3,000 automobiles taken into Egypt this year more than 2,000 will be of American make.

Girls! Use Lemon To Whiten Skin

The only harmless way to bleach the skin white is to mix the juice of two lemons with three ounces of Orchard White, which any druggist will supply for a few cents. Shake well in a bottle, and you have a whole quarter-pint of the most wonderful skin whitener, softener and beautifier.

Massage this sweetly fragrant lemon bleach into the face, neck, arms and hands. It can not irritate. Famous stage beauties use it to bring that clear, youthful skin and rosy-white complexion; also as a freckle, sunburn and tan bleach. You must mix this remarkable lotion yourself. It can not be bought ready to use because it acts best immediately after it is prepared.

Singing and Dancing Act Will be Feature With Picture, "Padlocked," on Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Florence Rudolph, premier danseuse, and Adele Vasari, former soprano of the Metropolitan Opera company, and their company, with a singing and dancing act, will top the bill to be presented at the Ceramic theatre Thursday, Friday and Saturday in connection with Rex Beach's "Padlocked."

Antonio Razlog, tenor, of Berlin, and Alice Swanson and Gertrude Knight, ballet girls, will appear on the program with the former Metropolitan stars in a high class offering.

Miss Vasari, after completing her studies abroad, had successful appearances in opera in Berlin and Paris before she sang at the Metropolitan Opera House. She was also an understudy of Lora Hoffman in the New York Winter Garden show, "Topics of 1923."

Miss Rudolph, lithe and graceful, has scored dancing successes in the largest theatres of the country.

Lois Moran, Louise Dresser and Noah Beery are the stars of Rex Beach's flashing human drama of modern life and morals. The film version of the clash between freedom-loving younger generation and repressed older generation. "Padlocked" is a picturization of the widely read Cosmopolitan Magazine story.

The central character in the story is a lovely, high-spirited girl, who rebels against her father's narrow-minded attitude and efforts to stifle her natural ambitions, and runs away from home to seek a career on Broadway. As a cabaret dancer, she attracts the attention of the millionaire society set and becomes involved in a love triangle. An unexpected crisis develops when her father demands that she return home, and the subsequent events are charged with suspense and emotional appeal.

GERMANY BACK IN COUNCIL OF NATIONS

Today

Peaceful Labor Day.
A Mother's Revenge.
Perhaps Not Prone.
Let Busness Alone.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

(The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune.)

Copyright, 1926, by the Star Co.

LABOR day has gone peacefully. In Europe it is a day of unrest, a gathering of troops and police. Here it is only another holiday. Labor isn't paid as well as it will be paid, and hours of labor are longer than they will be. But labor is better off here than anywhere else, and is content.

THOSE who control labor through money should make it their business to increase wages and shorten hours, proportionately with improvements in machinery and economies in production, instead of waiting for strikes and violence to do the work.

SIX years ago Andrew Ficarello killed Ignazio Cagnini, and Cagnini's mother said she would be revenged. Last Sunday she shot down with five bullets Ficarello, who by profession was a thief and counterfeiter.

Thirty-one hundred years ago Cyrus the Great captured the son of Tomyris, queen of the Scythians (see the story in Herodotus), while he was drunk and killed him, although Tomyris had warned him. She caught Cyrus, chopped off his head, put it in a goat skin filled with human blood and said, "For once, drink all the blood you want."

Beware of an angry mother.

Learn To Swim

The man or woman, boy or girl, who can swim can use that knowledge in winter or summer.

Life saving is not a seasonable pursuit—a person is just as likely to drown in December while skating as in July while boating.

This is but one of the reasons why you should learn to swim, or to increase your ability if you already know how. You can never tell when this knowledge will be essential.

The Washington Bureau of this paper offers a booklet on swimming and life saving. It was prepared by the American National Red Cross and contains instructions for beginners and advanced students, together with a number of swimming and life-saving tests.

Send for your copy of the helpful booklet to-day. Enclose four cents in stamps to cover return postage and handling.

GENEVA POWERS GRANT BERLIN SEAT WITHOUT NEGATIVE VOTE

Surmount Crisis by Increasing Non-permanent Places.

TAKE ROLL CALL

Thunderous Applause Marks Action at Assembly Meet.

By S. DUNBAR WEYER.

GENEVA, Sept. 8.—Germany was received back into the councils of the nations today.

The league of nations assembly, in an enthusiastic session, unanimously voted for the admission of Germany as a member.

Spain May Withdraw.

At the same time the league surmounted a crisis when it disposed of the difficult problem of re-organization of the league council by voting a permanent seat to Germany and increasing the number of non-permanent seats from six to nine.

The vote was taken by roll call and as each delegate answered in the affirmative there was thunderous applause.

During the early part of the morning session there had been some opposition to the linking of the question of Germany's entrance into the league and the reorganization of the league council, but this opposition dissolved as by magic when the issue came to a vote.

Only one cloud hung over the proceedings and that was the threat of

JUDGE SPENCE RULES AGAINST WELLSVILLE IN POLICE FIGHT

City's Motion is Turned Down at Lisbon.

NO ARGUMENTS

Council Will Debate Higher Court Action Thursday.

Judge W. H. Spence today overruled the city of Wellsville's motion for a new trial in the appeal case of John H. Fultz, police chief, who was fired by Mayor W. L. Fogo, lost his trial before the civil service commission and was re-instated after a bitter legal fight in common pleas court at Lisbon.

The motion for a new trial was submitted to the court without argument.

Wellsville was represented by Solicitor S. C. Luccock and Attorney S. W. Crawford. Attorney W. A. O'Grady, of Wellsville, represented Fultz.

Following the court's decision, Solicitor Luccock announced that the city, if possible, would carry the case to the court of appeals on error.

The next step rests with Wellsville council. It will be up to the solons either to authorize the city to proceed with the case or refuse permission for further prosecution.

The legislative body, with all members present, went into caucus session last night prior to the regular meeting, and were reported to be deadlocked on the issue after a session of approximately 40 minutes.

With a number of other matters awaiting their consideration the solons deferred action until Thursday night when they will meet in an adjourned session.

OUSTED CHIEF TALKED WITH RUDNER ON NIGHT MELLETT DIED, IS CLAIM

Motorcycle Policeman, First to Testify Before Civil Service Commission in Department Head's Hearing, Says Massillon Hardware Dealer Conferred With "Fired" Officer.

ANOTHER WITNESS TELLS VAGUE TALE ABOUT AUTO TRIP TO LENGEL HOME

Barber Declares Mysterious Touring Car, Lightless, Carried Three Men Passengers, One of Whom Spent Several Minutes on Porch—One of Indicted Men Will be Called to Stand.

By PAUL E. BROKAW.

CANTON, O., Sept. 8.—John A. McDonald, motorcycle policeman in the Canton police department, the first witness to appear before the civil service commission in the hearing of ousted Police Chief Seranus A. Lengel, testified today that Lengel was called outside the police station on the night of the Mellett murder by Ben Rudner.

Rudner, wealthy Massillon, O., hardware dealer, is one of the three men under indictment for the murder of Mellett.

Rudner talked with the chief for about 15 minutes, McDonald declared.

H. R. Fowler, barber, who stated that his home was located across the street from the Lengel home, was the second witness.

Questioned by H. B. Pontius, attorney and friend of the slain editor's and appointed by Mayor Swarts to conduct the questioning of witnesses in the Lengel hearing, Fowled told a vague tale about a mysterious touring car driving, lightless, to the Lengel home about 11 p. m. on the night of the murder.

Fowler declared that the car had three men passengers, one of whom spent several minutes on the Lengel porch.

Charges Against Lengel.

The charges that caused his dismissal accused Lengel, as well as several members of his department of maintaining "too close contact with known law violators."

Ben Rudner will be taken from the Stark county jail under heavily armed guard to testify in the hearing. He has been subpoenaed by Mayor Swarts along with several alleged notorious characters.

It is possible that Rudner will be taken from the hearing and be arraigned on the murder indictment, although County Prosecutor C. B. McClintock stated that the arraignment would not be held until tomorrow morning when Louis Mazer, also indicted for murder, was expected to be returned from Cleveland.

The hearing of Floyd Streitenberger, suspended detective who corroborated the alibi of Mazer, has been set for next Saturday.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—The department of justice will grant a request from United States District Attorney Bernsteen at Cleveland to turn over to Canton authorities Louis Mazer, indicted for the murder of Don R. Mellett, Canton publisher, officials stated today. Mazer is now held at Cleveland on a liquor law violation charge.

A formal request for action from Bernsteen has not been received, but department officials said it was the rule to comply with requests of district attorneys in such cases.

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 8.—United States District Attorney A. E. Bernsteen was awaiting advices from Washington today before turning over Louis Mazer, alleged slayer of Don R.

Mrs. Bennett made a similar flight at Bangor on her ninety-fourth birthday.

BLAINE DEFEATS SENATOR LENROOT IN WISCONSIN, WHILE MOSES OF NEW HAMPSHIRE AND ODDIE OF NEVADA ARE ALSO PRIMARY WINNERS

MADISON, Wis., Sept. 8.—Riding on the crest of Wisconsin's flood tide of anti-prohibition sentiment, Gov. John J. Blaine, "wet," and anti-world court senatorial candidate, apparently was being swept to victory today.

Returns from yesterday's primary, compiled up to 10 o'clock today, gave Blaine a lead of almost 11,000 over Senator Irvin L. Lenroot, who made his campaign issues adherence to the court and rigid enforcement of prohibition.

First returns favored Lenroot, but as more representative sections of the state were heard from, his early lead was soon offset and Gov. Blaine went out in front. The latter's lead is growing steadily as late returns trickle in.

The vote in 1,751 of the state's 2,728 precincts gave Blaine a total of 143,067 and Lenroot 132,206, and Blaine headquarters declared that there was not sufficient Lenroot strength in the remaining outstanding vote to offset the governor's lead.

In the gubernatorial contest, Fred R. Zimmerman, who broke with the LaFollette faction, was leading his nearest rival in a field of four candidates by approximately 15,000 votes.

World Court Foe Wins.

CONCORD, N. H., Sept. 8.—United States Senator George H. Moses, conspicuous opponent of the league of nations and the world court, today stood as a winner by a 15,000 majority of the New Hampshire republican senatorial renomination.

Returns from the Republican primary—261 out of 294 towns and wards gave:

Senator Moses 32,859.

Former Governor Robert P. Bass 15,492.

Judge James W. Emick 869.

Robert C. Murchie, of Concord, won the Democratic senatorial nomination over Albert W. Noone, of Peterborough.

Governor John G. Winant was defeated in the republican primary by Huntley N. Spaulding.

Mayor Eaton D. Sargent, of Nashua, was unopposed for the democratic gubernatorial nomination.

In the only congressional contest that in the democratic first district—Ferdinand Farley, Manchester, led F. Clyde Keefe, Dover.

Reno Mayor Defeated.

RENO, Nev., Sept. 8.—Senator Tasker L. Oddie today was practically assured of the nomination for United States senator on the republican ticket. With approximately 85 per cent of the returns complete, he was leading his opponent, Mayor E. E. Roberts of Reno, by almost two to one. The latest returns gave Oddie 7,060 votes to 3,635 for Roberts.

Raymond T. Baker, former director of mints and husband of the former Mrs. Alfred Vanderbilt, apparently had won the senatorial nomination on the democratic ticket. Returns were tabulated as follows:

Baker 4,031.
McCarran, 2,332.
McIntosh 1,097.
Brennan 620.

Gov. Hunt Wins in Arizona.

PHOENIX, Arizona, Sept. 8.—Gov. G. W. P. Hunt, running for nomination for governor on the Democratic ticket, had apparently won the right today to represent his party for the sixth consecutive time.

Hunt, who campaigned on an anti-Boulder Dam platform, on the basis of returns early today will apparently pile up a majority over his two opponents.

With 178 precincts tabulated from yesterday's primary, Hunt had 7,278; E. E. Ellinwood, of Phoenix, 3,863, and J. Cox, 3,857.

Approximately the same number of precincts showed E. S. Clark, former

$3,000 VOTED FOR SEWER JOB

Solons Advise Immediate Action on Repair Work.

A resolution authorizing city officials to borrow $3,000 with which to clean McQueen's Run sewer and put it in condition again was passed last night by city council as an emergency measure.

Although conceding that municipal finances were in bad shape, Auditor Fred Eckfeld pointed out that it would be possible perhaps to borrow $3,000 from the bank and pay it back later by the issuance of bonds.

Councilman William Nicholson pointed out that thousands of dollars worth of damage has already been caused by the ravages of two heavy storms and that the sewer should be cleaned up immediately and placed in condition.

In reply to Councilman Connor's question as to how the city had reached its estimate of $3,000, Service Director George P. Ashley, explaining the purpose of the fund, asserted that the city would have to build something to keep the rocks and debris out of the sewer. He pointed out that his forces had been working from both ends of the sewer, having made a number of taps through which rubbish was being lifted. The breakers in McQueen's run hollow, he said, must be repaired, and in order to provide adequate protection, additional breakers should be constructed. It will cost perhaps $300 or $400 to repair the old breakers, Director Ashley estimated, approximately $1,200, at a conservative estimate, to clean out the sewer, and whatever is left will be needed in the erection of new breakers. In this work the street car company will assist by donating rails.

Cleaning the sewer will do no good, Solon Nicholson asserted, unless these breakers are constructed.

If the work is not done now, in the opinion of Director Ashley, it will cost considerable more to do it later.

Attorney G. D. Ingram, speaking from the audience, brought solon's attention to the fact of a serious legal question as to whether the city is liable if it fails to act to provide protection for property owners in the west end of the city.

He referred to W. J. Falloon as one of the chief sufferers. The foundations of the Falloon home have been damaged, Attorney Ingram asserted, his cellar flooded and his property gutted.

"With a knowledge on your part," he told solons, "the city becomes legally responsible. It is the duty of the city to keep the sewer open. Three thousand dollars is only a pittance compared with the damage done there in the last two months."

In response to a suggestion by Mr. Ingram, council named its street and light committee to confer with Ingram and Mr. Falloon.

Following a statement by Auditor Eckfeld that $5,000 really should be appropriated for the job, Mayor Fogo advised council to go ahead with the resolution for $3,000 and that if it became necessary to ask for more, solons could take action then.

The first thing to do, in the opinion of Mayor Fogo, is to complete the construction of breakers.

JOHN CRAWFORD FAMILY REUNION

The descendants of John Crawford, pioneer American, held their sixth annual reunion at the home of Mrs. Georgia Mick, near Wellsville, Labor Day.

John Crawford, the founder of this old family, came to America from Ireland in the time of the Colonies, locating in Virginia and serving with distinction in the war of the Revolution. His son, Daniel Crawford, Sr., was born in 1778; came to Ohio from Virginia in 1806, locating in Madison township, on the farm now owned and occupied by Joseph A. Crawford. He served in the War of 1812, but refused a pension.

The honor guests were Mrs. Alcena Lamond, Washington, D. C. and Daniel Crawford Ward, Tower Hill, Ill. Mrs. Lamond occupies a very important place in the social and Masonic life of the United States, being grand treasurer of the Eastern Star.

Mr. Ward's mother, Margaret Crawford Ward, was born on the old Crawford farm in 1819, married Wm. H. Ward in 1835, located in Gallia county, Ohio, but migrated from there to Illinois in 1856, going by boat from Gallipolis via Cairo and St. Louis, arriving at their new home on the bluffs on the Mississippi in the very heat of the great debates between Abraham Lincoln and Stephen A. Douglass over the slavery issue. Mr. Ward was only nine years old when his family located in Illinois, and, although nearly 80 years of age now, has never visited the home of his ancestors in Columbiana county until the present. He retains his mental vigor to a remarkable degree. He is a Methodist, and enjoys the distinction of having attended five church services weekly for sixty years with a few exceptions. Thirty families were represented. Joseph A. Crawford and Grace Lowrie Williard were re-elected president and secretary-treasurer. Among those from a distance were Mrs. Delpha Petzel and daughter, Marian, Cleveland; Earl Ward, Tower Hill, Ill.; Angus Lamond, Jr., Washington, D. C.; Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Lowrie and daughters, Marian and Betty, Cleveland; Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Crawford and Robert Crawford, Niles, O.; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Roth and sons, John and Charles, Newton Falls, O.; Mrs. C. C. Douglass, Huntington, W. Va.; Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Williams, and Jane, Beth and Bobby, Hammond, Ind.; Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Kirk and Maud and Roy, Ellsworth, O.

COAL WEIGHING ORDINANCE O. K.

Council Also Votes on New Reservoir Job.

The city's new coal weighing ordinance was passed on second reading by city council last night, with solons acting in unanimity.

The ordinance makes it unlawful for any individual or company to retail coal of any description without certification of weight except in cases where there is a mutual understanding between buyer and seller.

Ordinance creating the post of reservoir superintendent whose duties it will be to supervise the dam in Little Yellow Creek from which the city gets its water supply, was also passed on second reading, Councilman W. S. Connor opposing the measure.

Mayor W. L. Fogo's report of collections for the month of August was $816.

MRS. McINTOSH CLUB HOSTESS

Fourteen members of the Fernleaf club were entertained recently at the home of Mrs. Edward McIntosh, Eleventh street, the affair honoring the birthday anniversaries of Mrs. McIntosh, Mrs. David Griffiths and Mrs. Wesley Wilson.

Vocal selections were rendered by Mrs. O. Givens and Mrs. Dwight Moorehead. Radio music and games were diversions.

At the close of the affair the social committee, including Mrs. Albert Beech, chairman, Mrs. John Hand and Mrs. Homer Todd served a three course luncheon. Table decorations were yellow and white.

The next meeting of the club will be held in two weeks at the home of Mrs. Virgil Hawksworth, Eleventh street.

CITY'S GENERAL FUND RUNS LOW

City employes gazed questioningly last night at the first item on City Auditor Fred Eckfeld's report for August. The general fund, from which salaries of a number of officials are paid, indicates a balance of $139.42 for the rest of the year.

"I don't know yet what we're going to do," Auditor Eckfeld said.

Other fund balances are: Safety, $1,612.14; health, $301.79; service, $2,767.01; water, $3,054.69; cemetery, $1,547.42; library, $173.73; special water, $29,954.62; gasoline tax, $5,326; auto license, $3,252.39; cemetery trust, $472.52; firemen's indemnity, $156.52; sinking fund depository, $35,800.67.

SECONDARY ROAD COST APPROVED

At a meeting of the county commissioners the assessments made by the trustees of Madison township for the improvement of their No. 1 secondary road system were approved. This road extends from the Lisbon-Wellsville road eastward from a point near the Yellow Creek Presbyterian church.

POLICE SEIZE LARGE STILL

Odor of Mash and Liquor Leads to Discovery.

A 50 or 60 gallon still, which police say, gave indications of having been used recently, found last night by authorities in the old Frank Nance house in Anderson avenue, between Twelfth and Thirteenth streets, was removed today to the city hall building by Chief of Police Fultz.

The house in which the still was located is not being used as a home. A five-gallon can, said to have been about two-thirds full of liquor, and a keg of mash, in addition to 15 or 20 empty barrels were confiscated by the police.

The odor of mash and liquor, apparently dumped near the house recently, led to the discovery, Chief Fultz asserted, as patrolmen passed the spot on their way through Twelfth street.

The investigation, it is said, will be continued.

Joseph Geisse, Main street, was ordered to appear before Mayor W. L. Fogo tonight on a charge of possessing gambling equipment. Patrolmen Cole and Pugh confiscated two large punchboards and a number of smaller ones in a visit to the Geisse establishment last night, authorities announced.

Acting on orders from Chief Fultz patrolmen last night dumped 100 gallons of wine seized by police following a raid Saturday night at the Frank Fusci place near Fourteenth street.

Fusci, at a hearing before Mayor W. L. Fogo, was assessed a fine of $100.00 and costs and made arrangements to pay.

Nick Cruel, arrested yesterday by Constable Oyster on a charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated, last night was fined $20 and costs by Mayor W. L. Fogo. He made arrangements to pay.

In obedience to orders issued by Chief Fultz, proprietors of three establishments, including a pool room and two lunch stands, which authorities have threatened to padlock, have promised to close up, Fultz announced.

One is operated by Sam Guidino, in Third street, and the other two, run by Guy Sapanaro and James Viola, have been in operation in Main street between Thirteenth and Fourteenth streets.

On account of Fred W. Catlett being a non-resident of Ohio, the court has ordered that a bond for $50 be posted to secure the costs in the case now pending in common pleas court, filed by him against Albert W. ZION, Ill.—All is not always peace in this city though Zion is its name!

The latest squabble that would do no credit to any city, especially a city of peace.

Theron Cobb, 18, it seems, was talking to a daughter of Apostle Moot under Josh McIntosh's window. McIntosh deluged them with a panful of water.

Apostle Moot thereupon went "up in Josh's room' and it is reported loud and violent voices were heard from the window. Young Cobb then mounted the stairs and, failing to move quickly enough, when ordered out, was pounced upon by Josh and thrown down the stairs bodily.

Not satisfied with this, Cobb charges, Josh pounded him ferociously, being finally persuaded by his wife to desist.

Josh faces court proceedings.

Salineville Bus Skids Into Ditch; None is Injured

Eight persons, seven passengers and the driver, narrowly escaped injury when an east bound Salineville-Wellsville bus, operated by the Steubenville-Canton Transportation company, skidded into a ditch about two and one-half miles east of Highlandtown at 7:30 o'clock this morning.

The accident occurred, according to Robert Wheatley, Jr., 25, Salineville, driver of the bus, when he attempted to pass a horse and buggy. Because of the dense fog he failed to see the vehicle until he was upon it.

The bus remained in an upright position, but was mired in two feet of mud.

BOOK TWO—I.

The autumn prom came on with a rush. One day the town was purely academic, and the next, by some overnight miracle, it was purely social. All through the forenoon it seethed with the transformation of student into Sybarite. Flannel shirts, hats without crowns, socks that didn't match, sweaters—all the regalia of ordinary life—gave place to gala attire. Lines formed five deep in the barber shops. The swinging doors of bootblack parlors flapped inward and outward ceaselessly, like unlatched gates in a high wind. Tailoring establishments were thick with the steam of hot irons on hundreds of pairs of trousers. Taxicabs tripled their rates and cruised the streets, tempting the opulent and the hurried. The cash register in the store of Beatty the Florist gave forth a perpetual ping-ping-ping—for Beatty was a wiseman, grown old and wise and wary in the service of collegians, and his law was "no cash, no corsage."

Fraternity houses and clubs were in an uproar of preparation and evacuation. Rooms cleaned and set in order for feminine occupancy; certain Rabelaisian volumes pushed under mattresses; certain works of art removed from walls and put away in trunks; pictures of girls other than the prom-girl hidden discreetly; whole armfuls of garments carried off to the dormitories, where boys would room in threes and fours and sixes, and dress in squads, and sleep, if at all, in morris chairs, for the next two glamorous nights. . . . Freshmen drifted about the campus, trying hard to look as though they didn't know anything unusual was happening and fervently desiring the coming of the day when they should be sophomores and free to participate The woman-hating element, clad defiantly in their oldest and worst, circulated in groups, jeering at immaculate contemporaries. "Hey, Bill, where'd you get the hat?" . . . "My God, look at Beany!". . . . "She sure ought to fall for those socks, old man!" . . . "Barber kinda ruined you, didn't he, Jay?" . . Later they would hang out of windows fronting the street and from this vantage point regard the influx of beauty with a jaundiced eye. Most haughtily critical were the women-haters. And eagle-eyed. That girl was too fat. That one was too skinny. And oh, boy, look at the bowlegs on this one!

II.

As Jock had feared, Molly recovered with astonishing ease and celerity from the fit of pique that had marked their parting in September, and was coming to the prom in high feather. Repeatedly he cursed himself for ever having asked her in the first place, and several times he was on the point of retracting his invitation so that he might have Yvonne as his guest instead. No doubt he would have done so had it not been for Yvonne herself. She maintained that nothing on earth could induce her to attend under such conditions. "I wouldn't be as mean as that to any one," she said.

The sense of fair play inherent in Jock approved this, even while he strove hotly to combat it. He wanted Yvonne for the prom more than he had ever wanted anything within his memory, but he secretly admited that he would have been a shade disappointed in her if she had agreed to come at the expense of another girl.

As it was, his adoration for her increased by just that much. She was perfect. . . . He had been to New York thrice to see her since that memorable afternoon in her apartment, and each time she became in his eyes more beautiful, more desirable, more beloved. Also, more mysterious, for she continued steadfastly to keep him in ignorance of herself and her life. She would say, "Oh, my dear, you will find out soon enough," and silence his questions with kisses. Love of her, tinged with curiosity, had become an obsession with. She filled all his waking thoughts and colored all his hours. Prom without her would be cake without flavoring. . . .

Molly's train was due at three in the afternoon. Two o'clock found Jock arraying himself lestlessly—a definite contrast to the manner in which he would have arrayed himself had it been Yvonne's train. Dressing to meet Yvonne was an elaborate process, one requiring much thought, much painstaking selection, and ruthless raids upon the wardrobes of his friends. He always set forth a call on her sartorially representing the fraternity at large. . . In Pink's new suit, Bill's hat, Ken Kennedy's muffler. Somehow one's own clothes, however good, are never quite good enough for the eyes of a girl like Yvonne.

But they do very well for a Molly.

He drew a tie at random out of the bundle of them that dropped from a rack on his chiffonier, and confronted the looking-glass. With the tie around his neck and an end of it grasped ready for action in each hand he stood a moment, surveying himself. His hair lay flatly, shinily, like a skull-cap of glossy black with a straight white seam in the center. His dark eyes looked back at him with sober brooding. That oblique upward slant of his mouth, that was a smile usually, was something very like a sneer just now. He was thinking of himself not as the extremely sightly young gentleman the mirror reflected, but the unforgivable jackass who was about to be bored to the point of frenzy for two days through nobody's fault but his own."

"Humph!" he snorted.

"What's that?" queried Bones from across the room.

"It's three rousing jeers for myself, I'm the biggest—" He broke off. "Wish the damn prom was over," he finished moodily.

Bones turned a shocked face tufted with shaving leather toward this heretic. "Why?"

"I've told you why, twenty times. Because I don't like the woman I've got coming."

"Then for the luvvagawd why did you ask her?"

"I liked her once," Jock said simply. As he said it he thought, "There! There's the whole trouble with me where women are concerned, in four words—'I liked her once!'. Every darn time it evolves into that. I must be fickle as hell." Then came another idea. "Wonder if I'll ever say about Yvonne, 'I liked her once?'" This seemed to him impossibly absurd, and he grinned into the mirror "Never," he assured himself. "I'll always love Yvonne. She's the one one I've been looking for all my life."

Bones was talking on. "You and Dopey Lane ought to get together. Have you heard the sob-stuff about his girl?"

"No. What's the matter with her?"

"Everything but St. Vitius' dance, to hear Dopey tell it. He says she's a complete zero. Just one of the cradle, and no stuff at all. He's running around telling everybody how she's the little girl who lives next door and his family roped him into asking her down, so nobody'll make a mistake and take her for his sweetie or anything. He'll have a fine week-end," Bones predicted as an afterthought.

"Seems to be the girl will have a worse one," answered Jock.

Unblemished SKIN

Gives You confidence

HOW conscious we are of our skin! Even one little pimple or blackhead will so embarrass us that we want to hide right away. And eczema, boils, blotches and rashes! Why, these awful things simply destroy all our ambition!

But what confidence we have in ourselves if our skin is clear and unblemished—free from any eruptions or breaking out! A clear skin is one of the greatest possessions in the world—and it is so easy to have it. All that is necessary is to keep our systems full of rich, red, pure blood. S. S. S. helps Nature build this blood. And the impurities that cause these so-called skin disorders are driven right out of the system.

If you want the kind of skin that captivates men and compels the admiration of other women, just remember that you can't have it if your blood is impoverished. But, just build red-blood-cells in your blood with S. S. S. and your dream of a soft, rosy, velvet skin, clear of blemishes, will be realized. Then notice the difference in the way you feel.

S. S. S.

S. S. S. has proven for generations that it helps Nature build the rich, red blood that makes beautiful skin and healthy bodies. Let S. S. S. prove it for you.

Get S. S. S. from any drug store. And get the larger bottle. It's more economical.

EAST LIVERPOOL—AMERICA'S POTTERY CENTER

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 8, 1926.

Curfew

Chicago has a curfew law which went into effect Sept. 1, with interesting results. Girls and boys under 17 are forbidden to be out after 10 o'clock. The first evening the police picked up 500 girls from 13 to 16 and sent them home with warnings to keep off the streets and out of dance halls. Repeated offenses may bring more serious treatment.

That is a good work, much needed in larger cities and not entirely uncalled for in smaller ones.

One trouble, however, the police are having in Chicago which is sure to occur in the application of any curfew laws nowadays. It's a difficult and delicate matter to assume any particular age for the girls on the street, when flappers and grandmothers dress and look so much alike.

The Open Door For Murderers

It shocks and angers the American public to be told that Richard Loeb and Nathan Leopold, the cultured Chicago youths who killed little Bobby Franks just for the fun of it, will be eligible for parole in 1935.

The public has supposed that those heartless murderers were securely penned up for life. The widespread demand for their execution was relaxed only on assurance from the Chicago court that the murderers would be put and kept where they could never do any more harm to society. Each was given two sentences, one for life and the other for 99 years.

Yet the Illinois supervisor of pardons and paroles explains that, because the judge failed to state whether the sentences were to run consecutively or concurrently, they presumably run concurrently; that there arises then the question whether the period served shall be determined by the life sentence or the 99-year sentence; that in the former case the prisoners would be eligible for pardon 20 years from the beginning of their term, and in the latter case, in 33 years; and on the former supposition, that good behavior would reduce the period to a little over 11 years altogether, making it legal to pardon them only nine years from now.

Truly American criminal law is a fearful and wonderful thing, particularly in piling upheard?of protections and benefits for the criminals.

Let it be observed, however, that mere "eligibility" to pardon or parole does not make it imperative or inevitable that those two murderers should be let out of prison a few years hence. No board will dare to free them, or their kind, if the public is alert in opposition to such frivolous or sentimental action.

This applies to hundreds of other criminals throughout the country who ought to pay the full penalty imposed, for the good of their own souls, the protection of society and the discouragement of potential social enemies. Their punishment depends on the way the public feels about it.

Passenger Ships

If there is a slump in ocean freight traffic, there is none in the passenger traffic. It is heavier than ever, with promise of still greater crowds of seafaring tourists for next year. All the trans-Atlantic liners are jammed, with long lists waiting for passage.

Naturally this stimulates the construction of new liners, and larger ones. The White Star Line is preparing to build the biggest ship in existence, displacing 62,000 tons, far greater than the Olympic and Leviathan. The French Line is building another passenger ship, not so large as those but the largest under the French flag.

There is a lack of goods to carry overseas, as our shipping board will sadly confess. But there is no lack of people. Instead of merchandise moving abroad and bringing home money, we have people going abroad and spending money. The country can afford that—we are rich, and our export trade holds up pretty well—but it is sad to see the empty freighters.

Road Sign Vandals

Complaint is made of vandalism in many places which takes the curious form of destroying or altering road signs. It appears alike in the familiar twisting of street signs in cities and in the less familiar bending or complete removal of highway signs in the country, on important routes.

The result is that strangers, especially tourists, are often sent miles out of their way by a sign pointing in the wrong direction, or are left without adequate information regarding curves and other features of the road ahead.

This is a queer form of practical joke. If the funny young fellows perpetrating it were given stiff fines or jail sentences whenever they were caught, it would help to straighten out their perverted sense of humor.

If there is any inanimate thing on earth that should tell the truth, it is a road sign. Tampering with it may often be comparable to throwing a switch to derail a passenger train.

Two men stood on the edge of a wharf arguing about Gertrude's swimming method. One waved his arms wildly in illustration, fell off and was drowned.

If it doesn't accomplish anything else, that old Norse model that has just sailed across the Atlantic should teach a lot of us how to spell Leif Erikson.

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—An avalanche of salacious magazines suddenly descended on Manhattan not many months ago and reached an amazing sale. All exploited a mess of sexy nonsense and adroitly stressed the inevitable triumph of virtue.

Dreamers in rags dreamt rag dreams. Shop girls, chorines and beautiful models sobbed out the perfidy of man in "first person" confessions. Every beauty was the victim of a beast and an innocent stroll on the avenue became the prelude to a chiffon career in an apartment on the Drive.

Sanctimonious looking employers were revealed by timid stenographers as libidinous sheiks fearfully misunderstood by invalid wives. The world was an orgy of fleshy desires. And circulation figures began to climb by leaps of a hundred thousand.

Most of these girlish revelations were dashed off in the office or by crabbed bachelor pot-boilers in Village attics. They were resigned for "below stairs" consumption and read secretly in the boudoirs. And then something happened.

Sales suddenly sloughed off. One magazine with a circulation of 150,000 lost 70,000 readers in a month. Several suspended publication. A New York editorial writer classified the debacle as "sex suffocation." And the mystery is yet unexplained.

Some blame it on the gay little tabloids which foster the same idea without background of anonymity. Others accuse that "prop" victims of the world's woes—the movies. The most sensible explanation is that a rather good idea was over-worked.

In the sudden revolt a curious twist in magazine publishing of the cheaper brand was noted. Glutted with sex, readers turned to the so-called "westerns"—stories of wide open spaces with clean minded heroes, galloping over purple sage.

There is a man in New York who has 110 Russian Cossacks on his hands with the problem of feeding and housing them until they can fulfill a Hollywood movie engagement. He brought them over in advance to present them as a sort of Russian rodeo and was compelled to furnish bond of $500 each to fulfill the immigration laws. The rodeo was a tremendous flop. And the troupe went on the shoals in a mid west city where it still is.

Broadway thrilled to the news that the former Loraine Manville, musical comedy star, had become the heiress of a nine million dollar estate. She is the wife of Clare Gould, nicknamed "Jay" by college classmates, and a popular musical comedy juvenile. Mrs. Gould has quit the stage and her good-looking husband has entered the business world. Their romance was one that rose above the tawdry romances of the Rialto. I have known them for some time and they have been a credit to the profession they graced.

I imagine Jay Gould was often embarrassed because people thought he was posing as a relative of the illustrious family of that name. He had nothing to do with it. Theatrical managers seized his nickname over his protests when he was a struggling actor, and it was thus he became known to the public.

Uplift among billiardists grows. On Tenth Avenue is a sign: "This is not a pool hall. It is a parlor where pocket billiards are played. Gambling in any form is prohibited."

In a theatre lobby the other night I saw a sickening episode. A well-dressed man awaited a lady. A man walked by and stepped squarely on his well polished shoe. The offender was given a shove that landed him sprawling on the tiled flood. He was helped to his feet by bystanders who suddenly paled. The man was blind. The other man vanished.

HASKIN'S LETTER

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Fighting The Inheritance Tax.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 8.—The fight which the State of Florida is waging against the Federal inheritance tax comes to an issue next month when the rule issued by the United States Supreme Court is returnable.

Until Congress enacted the revenue law approved in February this year Florida was a haven for wealthy persons who were anxious that their estates should not be levied against for state inheritance tax purposes. Florida has a provision in her Constitution that neither an inheritance nor an income tax shall be assessed against her residents or citizens. Most of the other states have inheritance taxes, some of them rather burdensome. Therefore the rich man of any other part of the United States who desired to escape such a levy had only to remove to Florida and establish his legal residence there.

Millionaires throughout the country were not long in learning about this. In fact, the enterprising people of Florida went far afield to advertise the good news, with the result that considerable numbers of the elderly rich of other states decided to go to heaven, or elsewhere, via Florida and thus leave their estates as intact as possible. This is aid to have had no little to do with the Florida real etate boom that made such a noise, and that started echoes that are still reverberating.

And it seemed that there was nothing the other states could do about it to get on an equal footing with Florida except to repeal their own inheritance tax laws, which none of them wanted to do. However, bright minds in Congress evolved a plan to turn the trick. A paragraph was incorporated into the new Federal revenue law providing for a rebate of not to exceed 80 per cent of the Federal inheritance tax in all cases where an estate or inheritance tax is paid to a state.

With that the law of the land, residents of Florida must pay their Federal inheritance taxes in full, because they pay no state tax, while residents of other states escape the Federal levy in proportion to the amount of their state levy. This means that a rich man can die in New York, for example, knowing that his estate must pay a state inheritance tax, but also knowing that it will be rebated four-fifths of the Federal tax, whereas if he moves to Florida his estate will not be assessed by the state but will be charged in the amount of the entire Federal tax.

This made residence in Florida less desirable, so far as dodging inheritance taxes is concerned, and is understood to have had a prompt and marked effect upon the exodus of the wealthy to the Palmetto State.

Court Proceedings Started.

At nay rate, on May 25 last Governor John W. Martin, of Florida, issued an executive order directing the Attorney General of the state to institute the necessary proceedings in the Supreme Court of the United States to knock out the objectionable provision of the Federal revenue law. On June 1, Attorney General John B. Johnson, in open court, filed and presented a motion to be allowed to file an original bill of complaint against Secretary of the Treasury Andrew W. Mellon and Commissioner of Internal Revenue David H. Blair.

This proposed bill of complaint asks that the Supreme Court shall first, hold the inheritance tax provision of the Revenue Act of 1926 to be a violation of Section 8, Article 1, of the Constitution of the United States, and, second, grant to the State of Florida an injunction restraining Secretary Mellon and Commissioner Blair from collecting the Federal inheritance tax from decedents' estates in Florida and from taking any steps looking to the enforcement in Florida of the objectionable section of the revenue law.

The Supreme Court promptly issued a rule directed to Secretary Mellon and Commissioner Blair requiring them to show cause why the State of Florida should not be allowed to file its proposed bill of complaint, and this rule is returnable to October 4. The most recent development is the filing of a brief in the case by Attorney General Johnson and associate counsel for the State of Florida.

This brief declares that the sovereign rights of the State of Florida have been invaded and that the revenue law is a direct effort on the part of Congress, first, to coerce Florida into imposing and levying an estate or inheritance tax, and, second, "to penalize the State and its property and citizens for the failure upon the part of the State to impose a tax or excise on estates of decedents or inheritance tax."

Constitutionality Arguments.

It is argued that the revenue law, in the section complained of, violates that provision of the Constitution of the United States which requires that "all duties, imposts, and excises shall be uniform throughout the United States" because the State of Florida, having a provision in its Constitution prohibiting an inheritance tax, can not levy one and thereby put its citizens on an equality with citizens of other States and the District of Columbia in respect to the operation of the inheritance tax provision of the Federal revenue act.

Decisions of the Supreme Court are cited and numerous arguments are brought forward in support of the contentions that the Federal inheritance tax is an excise tax, and that the State

THE WILY TIGER

This one springs from French sources. A Frenchman was going to India. His friends told him that on no account must he fail to enjoy the tiger hunting.

"It's no trick at all," they said. "You tie a bleating goat in a thicket at night; its cries attract the tiger. Meanwhile you are in a tree nearby. When the beast arrives, aim between its eyes shining in the darkness and fire, and it will fall as though stricken by lightning."

On his return they asked how many tigers he had killed.

"None at all," he replied sadly. "They've become altogether too clever. They now travel in pairs, and each one closes an eye. So of course . . . ."

LAUGHLINS PLAY HERE ON FRIDAY

The Laughlin Industrial league nine faces but one game this week, that being with Manager Frank Riley's Chester aggregation on the local grounds on Friday evening.

This game was to have been played on a earlier date but because of rain was postponed. Should Chester win, the victory will clinch the pennant for the last half of the season.

With the Laughlin nine as the winner in the first half, local baseball fans are promised a lively "little world's series."

20,000 WITNESS FAIR OPENING

Despite adverse weather conditions, approximately 20,000 persons attended the West Virginia state fair at Wheeling on Labor Day.

The exhibits this year are the largest in history.

Many people from this end of the county plan to attend the fair on Thursday. The Pennsylvania Railroad company has arranged to operate a special train from Bellaire to East Liverpool Thursday evening for the accommodation of state fair visitors. The train will leave the Bridgeport station at 7 p. m., arriving in East Liverpool at 9 o'clock.

EVERETT EVARTS HEADS TEACHERS

Everett Evarts, principal of the Newell High school, was elected president of the Hancock County Teachers' association at the closing session of the county institute at New Cumberland. Miss Alma Cunningham, Chester, was named vice president, while Miss Martha Newell, Chester, was chosen secretary-treasurer.

Miss Newell, Mrs. Mary Hughes, Weirton, and Superintendent C. D. Henderson of New Cumberland will represent the county teachers at the annual meeting of the West Virginia State Teachers' association which will be held at Clarksburg, during the Thanksgiving vacation.

Prof. O. D. Lambert spoke on the subject, "Elements in Teaching" at the closing session of the institute. Miss Rachel Baxter, Chester, presided.

Storm Caused Little Damage Here.

The severe rain storm which swept the upper section of the Ohio valley Saturday night caused but little damage in this end of Hancock county, according to a check-up today. Traffic over the Newell street car line was tied up for more than an hour Saturday night by a slide which covered the tracks near the end of the bridge on the West Virginia side of the river.

MACK'S PLAYS COST $50,000

Strand Company Has Fortune Tied Up in Productions.

The days of 20-cent sirloin steaks and 2-cent railroad fares seem, like the era of John Barleycorn, to have passed forever, if one is to judge by the lavish expenditure represented in the production of the plays used by Red Mack and his Players, now at the Strand Theatre for an indefinite run. The time when ten thousand dollars to twenty-five thousand dollars would equip a successful musical spectacle has likewise gone to come no more.

America's two foremost revues, Ziegfeld's "Follies" and the New York Winter Garden's "Passing Show," now cost an aggregate of a quarter of a million dollars to produce. In the plays to be presented by Red Mack and his Players during their run here, theatre-goers will see hundreds of beautiful costumes and a wealth of effects and trappings, all of which have nicked the check book of Red Mack to the tune of nearly $50,000.

COOLIDGE WILL KEEP HIS 'HANDS OFF' IN MEXICO

U. S. Policy Will Continue, is Definite Announcement.

HARMONY IS RULE

President Confers With Ambassador James R. Sheffield.

By GEORGE A. DURNO.

PAUL SMITHS, N. Y., Sept. 8. — The United States government will continue its "hands off" policy in Mexico, President Coolidge definitely announced today, following a long conference with Ambassador James R. Sheffield.

The president indicated that diplomatic relations between the two governments are very harmonious.

President Coolidge today gave Commissioner Henry H. Glassie, of Maryland, a recess reappointment to the tariff commission. It was said that the president decided to give him this "temporary" term because the senate committee now investigating the tariff commission may recommend that its personnel be reduced from six to four commissioners.

Glassie, a high tariff Democrat, was protested by Senator Bruce, Democrat, of Maryland, but the White House announced that a large number of Democratic senators had endorsed him unreservedly.

Negro Laborer Faces Death on Gallows For Attacking Girl

MOOREFIELD, W. Va., Sept. 8.—Jack Brady, 35, a Negro farm laborer, today faced death on the gallows following his conviction by a jury here of criminal assault upon Odessa Oates, young daughter of Seymour Hoffman, farmer.

Brady was sentenced by Judge R. A. McCauley to be hanged on November 12.

Evidence in the form of an alleged confession made by Brady was introduced at the trial which followed his indictment Sept. 1. Brady having made the confessions.

The assault was alleged to have taken place on Aug. 15, while the Huffman family was at church.

State Will Make Written Offer for Apple Creek Site

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 8.—Owners of the property on the Apple Creek site proposed for a new northern Ohio institute for the feeble minded will be given a written offer by the state, and a certain number of days within which to accept, at a conference to be held in Wooster tomorrow, Attorney General C. C. Crabbe announced today.

If the offers are rejected, condemnation proceedings will be instituted at once, Crabbe said.

At the same time the attorney general announced Judge Weigandt and Daniel C. Funk, Wooster attorneys, have been appointed to aid Crabbe's office in carrying on the condemnation proceedings.

Roumanian Queen Will Sail for U. S. Late in September

BUCHAREST, Sept. 8.—Queen Marie of Roumania, accompanied by her youngest daughter, Princess Illeana, will leave for Paris September 27, it was officially announced today.

After a stay of a few days they will sail by way of Cherbourf for the United States for a visit lasting two months. The announcement did not reveal the details of the program to be followed nor the purpose of the visit.

A Paris dispatch yesterday stated that Queen Marie would sail for the United States on the Majestic on September 29, having cancelled plans for an earlier sailing because she was unable to secure the royal suite on the liner.

Senator McKinley Shows Improvement; Physicians Hopeful

MARTINSVILLE, Ind., Sept. 8.—Continued improvement in the condition of Senator William B. McKinley, of Illinois, today led physicians to hope for his ultimate recovery.

Suffering from hypostatic pneumonia, which followed a severe attack of sciatic rheumatism, the aged statesman has been near death at the Home Lawn sanitarium here for the past ten days.

The alarming symptoms of high fever and a racing pulse have abated and the senator now has a chance to recover, according to Dr. R. W. Terhune, attending physician.

DEATH ROLL

Mrs. Blanch Clark.

Funeral services for Mrs. Blanch Clark, 35 years old, who died Monday night, will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Shroads, in Lawrenceville, back of Chester.

Burial will be made in Locust Hill cemetery. She is survived by five children, her parents, three brothers and five sisters.

country under martial law. Primo de Rivera, to make the army more democratic, arranged to have officers elected, not ranked according to length of service. That started the row.

HOW it will end, nobody knows. The king's physical courage, shown in four recent attempts to assassinate him, will help, but it will not stop a revolution or a bullet.

PRESIDENT Coolidge's message to congress will recommend no new legislation about trusts. The president's friends say: "He wants business let alone."

ONE thing is certain, big business should be allowed to grow as big as it can. In Europe entire nations unions unite to build up gigantic trusts in steel and other products. It would not be healthy for America to hamper big organizations here.

IF the people haven't intelligence enough to protect themselves against a few big men, they certainly wouldn't have enough to protect themselves against the combination of many little men.

Steubenville Mayor And Chief Win Round In Ouster Battle

STEUBENVILE, O., Sept. 8.—Petitions seeking to oust Mayor John S. H. Patton and Chief of Police Blaine D. Carter from office were drawn here today, following the action of Judge A. S. Paisley upholding a technical motion in their behalf.

The judge ruled that Patton and Carter had not been legally served with notice following the filing of an ouster sent by attorneys for the ministerial alliance.

Following the ruling it was expected that Patton would take possession of the mayor's office, now held temporarily by J. C. Sander and that Carter would relieve Acting Chief Ross Cunningham.

The petitions charged the officials with neglect of duty. Judge Paisley's decision is expected temporarily to delay the ouster move.

Aged Ohio Woman Dies When Home is Fired by Lightning

NEW LEXINGTON, O., Sept. 8.—That Miss Sarah McDivit, 80 years old, who lived the life of a recluse in a small three-roomed house about 10 miles from here, died in a fire, started by lightning early Monday morning, and was cremated, was the verdict returned here today by Coroner Harold Mitchell.

Neighbors found the home burned to the ground. A search for the lone occupant failed to reveal a trace of her whereabouts. Bones, believed to be part of the skull and torso, found in the ruins were relieved to be those of the aged woman.

Coronach, Derby Winner, Captures St. Leger Stakes

DONCASTER, England, Sept. 8.—Lord Woolavington's Derby winner, Coronach, today won the St. Leger stakes, the last classic of the English flat racing season.

Lord Derby's Caisset was second and Foliation finished third.

The scattering prices of the first three were:

Coronach, 8 to 15.

Under English turf regulations the place and show horses pay one-quarter of the odds to win.

Ohio Republicans Mourn Death of Miner Norton, 69

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 8.—Republican politicians throughout the state today were expressing sorrow over the death here last night of Miner G. Norton, collector of customs and one of the most picturesque figures in local politics.

The veteran had spent 50 of his 69 years in public affairs. He had been ill the last few days of acute indigestion but was thought to have survived the attack. He collapsed at his home.

Funeral services, in which civic leaders and Knights Templar will participate, will be held here Friday with burial at Jefferson, his birthplace.

that Ware was traveling about 15 or 20 miles an hour. The sister of the accident victim said the automobile was traveling "fast," but the coroner ruled there was insufficient evidence to show that Ware was exceeding the speed limit at the time of the accident.

Funeral services for the child will be conducted at the home of the victim's aunt, Mrs. S. G. Wilson, Commerce street, Wellsville, tomorrow afternoon. Burial will be made in Spring Hill cemetery.

of Commerce, was suggested by the local chamber several weeks ago as a means of arousing interest in the impovement of the highway between East Liverpool and Washington.

First move for the improvement of the route was made at a meeting held in East Liverpool several years ago. The highway begins at Clev and and ends at Baltimore. The road is improved with the exception of a 40-mile stretch between Laughlin's corners and Washington.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—Some unsettlement was caused in the early trading today by the stock exchange's monthly report on brokers loans, showing an increase of $144,000,000 during August, in addition to which the reserve board reported an increase of $27,000,000 for the week ended September first. Both the industrial and railroad stocks were offered at lower prices, though the losses in the railroad shares were mostly fractional.

Another record-smashing week in freight car loading was reported by the American Railway association as of August 28, when loadings pushed through all previous records to reach the total of 1,236,233 cars.

But this information did not prevent fairly heavy offerings of the railroad stocks which had led the recent advance, with the exception of the Southwestern stocks, of which the strongest member was Kansas City Southern.

Call loans renewals were posted at 5 per cent. Passing of the Jordan Motor car dividend in Cleveland was followed by heavy selling of that stock, with a 2-point decline in price. Yellow Truck featured low-priced motors selling at the year's high price of 39¼.

Ex-Governor Cox Says War Debts Will Not be Fall Issue

LONDON, Sept. 8.—"The Democrats won't make an issue of war debts in the November senatorial elections, for the policy on war debts does not belong to politics."

Former Governor James M. Cox of Ohio, who has been spending a holiday in Europe, made this statement today prior to taking a boat-train to embark for New York on the S. S. Majestic.

The former presidential candidate who campaigned on the league issue, smiled as he said:

"The Democrats made the mistake once of making an issue of the league of nations."

The former governor said it was too early to make predictions regarding the next presidential election, but added that he is not impressed with the changes of either Governor Al Smith or William G. McAdoo.

COSHOCTON MAN G. O. P. LEADER

C. R. Frederickson Will Direct Ohio Campaign.

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 8.—Charles R. Frederickson, Coshocton, today was directing campaign efforts of Ohio republicans as chairman of the campaign committee of the Ohio state central committee. He was chosen late last night after the general committee had refused to accept the recommendation of George B. Harris, Cleveland attorney, by a subcommittee.

Mrs. Harriett Taylor Upton, Warren, and Judge Orville Smith, Cleveland, were named vice chairmen. Louis H. Brush, Salem, was chosen secretary-treasurer, and Harry D. Silver, Preble county, executive secretary.

Frederickson had been offered the post at the state platform convention but declined. The action of the committee in selecting him finally, however, was regarded in local circles as welding together the party again.

The new chairman of the campaign committee was the unanimous choice of the nominees from the day of the primary.

Seventeen of the 22 women who will represent the congressional districts as members of the state executive committee, had been chosen and the remaining few will be named in a few days.

withdrawal by Spain in protest against the league's refusal to grant her demand for a permanent esat. Geneva heard reports that Spain had decided to resign from the league, but refused to be swayed from the course which had been laid by the leaders.

Protest Made By Norway.

The formal induction of Germany into the league is tentatively set for Friday as the German delegates to the league are expected to leave Berlin today.

Following the vote on the admission of Germany and the increasing of the non-permanent council seats, the assembly adjourned the morning session.

The opposition to the linking of the questions of Germany's admission and the reorganization of the council was led by Norway.

"A most solemn protest against any form of unconstitutional procedure and a fervent appeal to safeguard the rights of the assembly," was voiced by Dr. Nansen, head of the Norwegian delegation, at the opening of the assbly.

Nansen protested specifically against the linking of the question of German's election to a permanent seat in the league council with that of non-permanent seats. Both questions were presented to the assembly as a single motion for balloting.

The linking of the two questions, Nansen said, constituted a serious infringement of the liberty of members of the assembly, and menaced the future working of the league.

The Netherlands delegates echoed Nansen's protest.

Following this plea the assembly proceeded to vote, and the opposition disappeared.

Berlin Names Delegation.

BERLIN, Sept. 8.—President Hindenburg today authorized the appointment of a German delegation to the league of nations.

The president signed the appointments in Bavaria, where he is on a vacation, and dispatched the documents to Berlin by special messenger.

The German delegation is headed by Foreign Minister Stresemann and Ministers von Schubert and Gauss.

The German delegation is expected to leave for Geneva tonight.

Spanish Rumor Discounted.

MADRID, Sept. 8.—Reports that the Spanish cabinet has decided to resign from the league of nations are unconfirmed here and are discounted.

There is a general anticipation, however, that the cabinet will shortly take such action in view of the league of nations assembly action in voting Germany into the league and denying Spain's demand for a permanent seat in the council.

Four Seamen Killed.

SHANGHAI, Sept. 8.—Three British officers were dead of wounds and another was in a critical condition today following engagements with Chinese troops on the Yangtsze river, according to word reaching here.

The dead:

Commander F. C. Farley, British gunboat Despatch.

Gunboat in Action.

In addition to the officers killed and wounded four seamen were killed in the Yangtsze river battle and 14 others were wounded.

The river engagement with the Chinese troops developed when the Cockchafer went to the assisatnce of two British cargo boats, that had been seized by the soldiery of General Yang Sen, an adherent of Marshal Wu Pei Fu.

When the British consul at Chungking and officers from the Cockchafer failed in negotiations for the release of the seized steamers, a naval expedition was immediately forwarded by Commander Farley to rescue the officers of the seized cargo boats.

Chinese troops opened fire on Farley and 40 members of the expedition when they attempted to rescue the officers. The gunboat Cockchafer, standing by, immediately went into action.

Executive Clemency Only Way of Escape For "Boy Slayer"

Ross was convicted of the murder of Isidore Steeck, a grocer, in an attempted hold-up last November.

CONVICT, WHO ATTACKED ST. LOUIS WOMEN, MAY BE TOLEDO "CLUBBER"

Death Penalty Will be Demanded for "Lifer" Who Admits He Lured Victims to Vacant Houses.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 8.—Detective Chief Kaiser declared today he will urge the circuit attorney's office to demand the death penalty for John Sexton, 29, escaped Mississippi life term convict who has confessed, according to police, to attacking several women he lured to vacant houses here.

Sexton, police, said, freely admitted the alleged attacks, including one on a 15-year-old girl, and offered to plead guilty if assured he would be given a life sentence instead of the extreme penalty.

Police here said today they have forwarded Sexton's picture and fingerprints to authorities at Toledo, Ohio, in the belief he had some connection with the clubbing of a number of women there several months ago.

"Clubber" Never Identified.

TOLEDO, O., Sept. 8.—Toledo police officials today said they had not received from St. Louis police finger prints and a description of John Sexton, 29, held there in connection with assaults upon St. Louis women.

They declared, however, that a thorough investigation would be made immediately upon receipt of the necessary information from St. Louis, in an effort to connect Sexton with a series of murders and outrages upon women in Toledo by a "clubber," who terrorized the city for a year.

The Toledo "clubber," never identified, began his reign of terror last August, with an attack upon Mrs. Lydia Baumgartner, beating her to death. The slaying of Mrs. Emma Hatfield, 48, and several other attacks upon other women, which did not result fatally, were all attributed to the mysterious "clubber."

Several Toledo victims have indicated to police that they may be able to identify the assailant.

BEN LYON STAR IN 'THE SAVAGE'

First National Film Booked at American Theatre.

Ben Lyon is wondering whether or not it pays to play the "hero" in a picture. The picture was "The Savage," which opens at the American Thursday.

You see, Ben, who plays the title role, was down in Florida running around garbed in a goat skin and bare feet. For days he dashed about in the sand of the seashore and the undergrowth of swampy sections that resembles a section of the jungle. Ben's feet were all cut up, and so was Ben, for that matter. But such is art.

However, the straw that broke the camel's back, as it were, in Ben's case came after Ben had cavorted for more than a week and devoted his evenings to patching up scarred feet and anointing sunburned spots with soothing lotions. Then followed a scene in which Sam Hardy, the heavy, sits in ease and comfort beneath a palm tree. Before Sam is a table overflowing with ice, seltzer water, tall glasses and the liquid to put in them. Sam sits and drinks and fans himself. But poor Ben during all this was forced to stay out in the hot sun eating bananas. Most of a day was thus spent.

"I wish that fellow Hardy had this little role for a day or so," declared Ben when Director Newmeyer called it a day.

723 PUPILS ARE ENROLLED

New High Mark Attained in Chester Schools.

With 723 pupils registered, enrollment in the Chester public schools for the first day of the fall term reached a new high mark, Superintendent Albert Rabenstein announced today.

The new enrollment not only set a new record for the elementary schools but also for the high school, where 169 pupils are registered.

For the first time in many years there was no congestion in the schools yesterday. The congested condition was relieved last winter following the completion of the new high school building at Sixth street and Carolina avenue.

Class work was started today. The morning session yesterday was for registration, after which pupils were dismissed.

32 SEEK PLACES ON GRID TEAM

Thirty-two candidates for the Chester high school football squad answered the call of Prof. Ray C. Wilde, coach, for the initial practice session on the high school lot last night.

This is the largest field of candidates to report for the football squad, and from this number Chester promises a speedy eleven this fall. Workouts will be held every evening.

The first game is with Wellsville at Chester on Saturday, October 2.

CLINTON ROAD WORK IS RUSHED

Pouring of concrete on the west end of the new road which is being built between Clinton and Laughlin's Corners is to be started this week by H. E. Bunce, Olean, N. Y., contractor. Concrete work on the eastern section of the job was started a week ago.

Grading on the five and three-fourths mile section of the road from Laughlin's Corners eastward was completed last week. Sand for the surfacing work is being hauled from a river derrick at the old ferry boat landing in the lower end of Chester, while crushed stone is being received by rail at the local freight station.

The contractors plan to pour from 800 to 1,500 feet of concrete per day, the distance being determined by the weather conditions. With good weather prevailing it is believed that the last of the concrete will be poured within three weeks.

Five steam shovels were used on the job which leads from Clinton westward and connects with the Bunce contract. Material is being delivered on a private siding which connects with a coal mine between Imperial and Clinton.

Both jobs will be completed and the road opened to travel by the middle or latter part of November. Pennsylvania road officials declare. The road will be closed to travel until three weeks after the last of the concrete has been poured.

K. T. K. TEAM HERE THURSDAY

Chester Will Play Postponed Game on Home Lot.

As the result of action taken by executives of the City Industrial league last evening, Chester will meet the Knowles, Taylor & Knowles squad at Smith field at 5:30 o'clock tomorrow evening. This game was postponed several weeks ago on account of rain.

By defeating the Turk-Nash outfit last evening, Riley's outfit can do no worse than tie for the league leadership.

Chester fans are confident of a victory for their team over the K. T. & K. nine inasmuch as the East Liverpool potters have lost every game the last half of the season. Should the East Liverpool nine do the unexpected, the locals will be forced to meet the Homer Laughlin outfit in another postponed game at Newell Friday evening.

Initial battle in the "baby world's series" will likely take place Saturday afternoon, when Laughlin will probably meet Chester in a five-game series to determine the district championship. League officials are to meet after Thursday night's game to complete arrangements for the series.

Turk-Nash Hopes Fade In Defeat At Hands of Riley Tossers, 4-0

DESPITE an injured wrist, twisted out of place after being struck by a ball fouled from his bat, "Mike" Cebula went out in the fifth inning of yesterday's city league tilt between Chester and Turk-Nash and crashed one of "Sonny" Deshler's offerings to deep middle, scoring Green, who had previously doubled, and sending in the winning run. Three more runs that were not needed were registered in the growing darkness of the first half of the seventh while the motors went scoreless all the way. The final count was 4-0.

The victory placed Chester within one game of the second half championship and eligibility for the baby world's series" with Laughlin, the gonfalon grabbers of the first section of 1926 play.

Presided over by Messrs. Stoffard and Fleming, Midland, (Pa.) arbitrators, the contest was a battle throughout, with honors even until Greene and Cebula bunched their hits with damaging results to Turk-Nash.

But Cebula's rap was costly in that it took him from the game. He went to the hilltop at the outset of the second half of the fifth only to return to the bench without serving a ball. He was given medical attention by Dr. J. L. Pyle.

The youthful P. Bennett was brought in from the bullpen. He was in rare form and his curve was breaking properly. He finished the three innings with but two hits. He fanned six during the interin in which he understudied "Mike."

Turk-Nash, playing brilliantly in the field, were within one hit of evening the score or leading the contest twice during the regime of Bennett. In the fifth with one out, D. Morgan drew the only pass he allowed. He stole second and reached third on the wild peg the pitcher made to catch him off second but here the young twirler merely tightened and fanned J. Watson and the heavy hitting Deshler in turn.

In the sixth after E. Bayley had skied to F. Marshall McConnell sent a grounder to Heckathorne. It was an easy blow but was booted by the infielder. McConnell then stole second.

But with Turk-Nash devotees yelling lustily for the swat that would tie the score A. Bayley and R. Pollock went out on strikes.

Deshler lost control momentarily in the first of the seventh. He hit Potts, first up, in the side. Then F. Marshall beat out an infield drive that he deflected and which hit the umpire, putting two on. Greene, however, fanned. But again he lapsed and walked P. Bennett, cluttering the paths. Evans, who had twice been struck out and walked once, drove the ball safely to left field, scoring Potts and F. Marshall, while P. Bennett reached third from where he counted as Talbott dropped a throw to nip Evans.

Recovering himself, after Evans stole second and a passed ball put him on third, Deshler struck out Heckathorne and P. Cebula in turn.

It was now practically too dark to play but Turk-Nash, determined, came to their final bats. Schneidmiller sent a fly back of second which L. McMath failed to see and it went for a safety. Talbott and D. Morgan fanned in turn, thus maintaining P. Bennett's record of two strikeouts per inning. J. Watson sent a drive through the infield to right, sending the catcher to third. The situation was up to Deshler. He swung hard, drove to Greene, who assisted to Heckathorne and the game was over.

Inability to hit spelled the downfall of Turk-Nash.

At the outset of the game for a half inning every Turk-Nash player started out of position because of the lateness of D. Morgan's arrival. J. Watson took his place at third, E. Bayley succeeding him at short, A. Bayley going to second while McConnell went to middle, R. Pollock to left and "Cracker" Howell to right. At the outset of the second all returned to their places.

E. Bayley fielded in brilliant fashion. He made a great stop off L. McMath's bat in the first and threw him out. In the fourth he ran back and captured P. Cebula's fly on which he somersaulted backward. For a time he appeared hurt. He also retired M. Cebula on an attempted steal by clever work.

Greene fielded well at third where he had four assists.

P. Cebula, fresh from the conclusion of his engagement at Uniontown, Pa., returned to the Chester lineup.

HIGH GRIDDERS RESUME DRILLS

Will Hold Workouts Temporarily at City Park.

Routine drill occupied the attention of high school gridders as they got down to work last evening at City Park in their first practice session following the opening of school.

In view of the fact that the attention of Coach George Kidder was occupied largely in the distribution of uniforms and equipment, the workout was left in charge of Assistant Coach Bill Cox, former Muskingum center, and Carl McCutcheon, of this city, ex-Pitt halfback.

Cox took the linemen and McCutcheon the candidates for ball toting jobs and put them through their paces.

The majority of the squad has the benefit of the training camp period and the kinks are pretty well ironed out, enabling the mentors to take up tactics earlier than usual.

With the job of distributing equipment out of the way, the squad will likely get down to practice work in earnest this afternoon.

Sessions are being held at city park temporarily on account of the condition of Patterson Field, covered with water as a result of Saturday's heavy rain.

Fight Results

AT NEW YORK—Tommy (Kid) Murphy, Trenton, N. J., lightweight, drew with Billy White, Jersey City, 10 rounds.

Charlie Rosen, New York lightweight, beat Joie Kaufman, 10 rounds.

Murray Elkins, New York lightweight, beat Les Murray, of New Zealand, 10 rounds.

AT PROVIDENCE, R. I.—Bushey Graham, Utica, N. Y., bantamweight, won from Young Montreal, Providence, 12 rounds.

AT NEWARK, N. J.—Paul Doyle, New York welterweight, beat Jack McFarland, Newark, 10 rounds.

AT TROY, N. Y.—Young Tesio, Troy N. Y., welterweight, beat Red Herring, Gulfport, Miss., in the fifth rouad when the latter suffered a broken rib.

CARDS LEADING BY TWO GAMES

Reds in Second Place With Pirates Trailing.

The Cardinals lead Cincinnati by two games this morning in the National league race, while Pittsburgh, four and a half games behind St. Louis, apparently is out of the race. The Cubs, who defeated the Reds yesterday while Pittsburgh was losing to St. Louis, are now on the heels of the Pirates.

The Yankees increased their lead to seven full games by trouncing the Red Sox, while Cleveland lost to the Browns for the second game in succession. The Yanks can clinch the flag by winning thirteen of their remaining contests, even if the Indians should win all of their nineteen games.

Boston's seventeenth straight defeat stretched the Yankees' lead over Cleveland to seven games as the Hugmen triumphed, 4 to 2. Shocker was hit freely but put on the brakes quickly when the bases became populated.

INSIDE GOLF

By CHESTER HORTON,
Maker of 51 Golf Champions. "Golf's most successful teacher," says "Chick" Evans.

When the feet are spread for a low ball the player should also design to take somewhat shorter back swing.

This will be automatic, in a way, because the wider foundation for the swing will bring about a considerable straining against the body if any long back swing is attempted. The short back swing, with the feet well apart, flattens out the arc of the swing as shown in the sketch. When the feet are closer together, for a high ball, the arc of the swing is as shown in the dotted lines. In the first, the clubhead takes the ball while it is still going downward toward the bottom of the forward arc, while for the high ball the clubhead catches the ball just after it has started upward from the bottom of the forward arc.

SOCCER PLAYERS TO HOLD SESSION

The Homer Laughlin-East Liverpool soccer club will hold a meeting tonight at 8 o'clock in the Y. M. C. A. here.

Plans for the rapidly approaching season will be discussed. All players as well as fans interested in the club are asked to attend the session.

RESERVES PLAY CONGO TOSSERS

The Chester Reserves are scheduled to clash with the Congo nine tomorrow evening at Congo.

Players Maley, Logston and Bennett are asked to report along with the rest of the team at Gregg's filling station at 5 o'clock.

The Reserve management would like to book games with the Northside and the K. of C. teams. Call 2366-J.

After losing to the Giants, 7 to 2, the Braves came back like an echo and won the nightcap, 7 to 5, with a four run rally in the eighth.

Wayland Dean pitched the Phils out of the cellar, blanking Brooklyn, 5 to 0.

George Uhle failed as the Indians lost to the Browns, 8 to 3. Karr twirled for the winners.

Chester Needs Only One More Victory To Clinch Pennant Race

Decisive Contest Will be Staged Thursday at Smith Field With K. T. K.; Chester Conquest Will End Second Half Season.

FOLLOWING Chester's victory over Turk-Nash last evening, decision was reacheed by City Industrial league officials and team managers for the playing on Thursday evening at Chester of the postponed game the West Virginians have with K. T. K.

A victory for Riley's club in this event will cinch the second half pennant.

Should Turk-Nash win all their five remaining games and Victory Motors all their six contests, the clubs could do no more than tie with Chester should Chester lose the three postponed games on its schedule.

Consequently one game will give Chester the flag.

As a result it will not be necessary to play off all the remaining postponed games and will make possible the opening of the series on next Saturday, league officials considering it advisable to play the series before bad weather starts.

In the event that K. T. K. wins Thursday's game Chester will be compelled to play another of its postponed contests.

Should Chester win, details of the series will be completed that evening and machinery set in operation for the beginning of the title clashes on Saturday.

Over two billion smoked a month!

—natural tobacco taste has the "call" these days!

Men have certainly made their preference clear!

REMEMBER just a few years back you saw but few Chesterfields?

Mighty different today! You see them everywhere! But it's not that fact, but the reason, that's the interesting thing.

Natural tobacco taste—a taste secured by matching one fine variety against another, a taste which retains tobacco character—that's why Chesterfield is America's fastest-growing cigarette, and has been for four consecutive years. Not much doubt nowadays about what smokers want!

Only Two Factors In Way of Bout Between Dempsey and Harry Wills

By David J. Walsh.

ATLANTIC CITY, Sept. 8.—Jack Dempsey will meet Harry Wills in the long awaited battle of the ages at Tia Juana within a matter of months, according to a story which broke within the champion's training camp today. There are only two factors that stand between the two greatest heavyweights of the modern era. They are the signature of Wills to a Dempsey contract and the possibility, however vague, that the champion might muff his chance against Gene Tunney on the night of September 23.

According to Gene Normile, manager or what not of the heavyweight champion, the second possibility has a stronger chance than the first. Normile says that Wills has set a prohibitive price on his head, so to speak.

"He wants $300,000 as I understand it," the champion's manager declared. "That's entirely too much for any challenger. We are fair enough when it comes to that, but if Wills really wants nothing but a shot at the title, as he has been claiming, he will sign up for whatever he can get. Every challenger has done that since time immemorial."

"We are willing to give Wills a better price than any challenger has received to date. Dempsey took his almost for nothing, because he felt he could win and earn his money afterward.

"If Wills is sincere, he will feel the same way. If not, we can only assume that he is after the loser's end."

Normile talked only after some persuasive conversation from the writer. He intimated that he preferred to await the arrival of James Coffroth, from the west, before committing himself either one way or the other. Coffroth was the Tex Rickard of his day, which was the day of old championship battles in California. Incidentally, it might be mentioned that Normile is one of Coffroth's very bright young men.

Therefore, if Normile says that Dempsey is willing, one might very well judge that not only the champion but the promoter is amenable to the proposition. The only thing missing is the challenger and, if all he wants is a fight with the champion, that fight is here.

This, at least, was the story in the Dempsey camp this morning. Maybe Wills has a better proposition he can propound to the New York state athletic commission. Maybe Normile is merely talking to hear his teeth rattle. Anyhow, I would say off-hand that a proposition from Jim Coffroth, if made, would be a better bet than any that might come from Miles, Mich., and way points.

The Pirates walked the plank with amazing docility as Willie Sherdel of the Cardinals whitewashed them, 8 to 0. Hornsby, playing with an injured spine, drove in three runs and Chick Hafey got three hits.

The White Sox downed the Tigers again, 4 to 2, sweeping the series and drawing close to fifth place. Bud Clancy, White Sox rookie, was the big noise with a single, a double and a triple.

Because of Critz's fumbles and their inability to bunch hits off Kaufmann and Bush, the Reds lost to the Cubs, 8 to 5. The Reds now trail the Cards by two games.

Flock of Ringers Worth "Five Grand" To Horseshoe Fan

CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—"Five grand they can," said William "Big Bill" Thompson, former mayor of Chicago.

"Five grand they can't," said Carter Blatchford, prominent local sportsman.

But they did! That's why "Big Bill" is $5,000 to the good today.

The wager was made on the ancient and honorable game of horseshoes.

Thompson bet Blatchford that Hansford Jackson and his brother Carroll, champions of Cook county, could throw 50 ringers in a 50-point game.

The contest was held last night at Rainbow Gardens. The Jacksons threw 54 ringers and won the game, 54 to 46. Fifteen hundred fans watched the match.

GENE PUMMELS HIS PARTNERS

Loses Placidity as He Sharpens Up His Punches.

STROUDSBURG, Pa., Sept. 8.—Placidity has gone from the face of Gene Tunney. This handsome pugilist-philosopher who is usually so calm, so lacking in any expression save one of peace as he goes about the boxing that is preparing him for his attempt to defeat Jack Dempsey, snarls a bit now as he performs his task. He wrinkles his forehead, draws down his brows, and niffs and curls his upper lip up over his teeth and gums as he walks into his sparring mates both hands blazing.

Tunney is in excellent physical condition now so he is seeking nothing but sharpness in his boxing, speed of hand and foot and an especially potent punch. He is going after these things in a business like and vicious manner. He can get them only by punching his partners, so punch them he does. He still carefully refrains from knocking them over but he doesn't worry much about hurting them.

Gene jabbed Billy Vidabeck with all the power in his brawny arms and shoulders yesterday. He hooked him with left hands to the body and crossed damaging rights to the Jersey City boy's jaw.

Harold Mays had no easy job either. Harold is especially valuable to Tunney because he hooks a left hand in a manner not unlike the Dempsey delivery. Mays swung many a left at Tunney yesterday but Gene either moved out of the way of the punches or flashed terrific straight rights to the jaw inside the hooks.

Haskin's Letter

of Florida has a right in her sovereign capacity to question and attack its constitutionality and validity.

"It would be difficult to conceive of a stronger case than the instant one," says the brief, in summary. "The Constitution of the State of Florida prohibits the Legislature of Florida forever in the future from levying an inheritance tax. The State's finances and condition are such that it does not need an inheritance tax. The State does not owe one dollar; does not have one cent of bonded indebtedness; has so wisely administered its domestic affairs that it had as of the 1st of June, $15,000,000 of cash in the state treasury."

The fact that Congress has provided for rebates of the Federal inheritance tax in certain cases is pointed to as proof that "the Federal Government itself does not need the tax, nor has it imposed the same for the purpose of raising revenue or for the carrying on on of the operations of its Government, but for the sole and express purpose of compelling and coercing those States which do not have state inheritance taxes to levy the same."

And as a final word Attorney General Johnson says: "If this estate tax is constitutional and valid, then any tax imposed under the provisions of the Constitution of the United States could be rebated. In this manner a majority of the States could combine and force a minority of the States to carry the burden of the expenses of the Federal Government. A majority of the States can combine and absolutely destroy the sovereignty of a minority of the States, and in so doing would destroy their own sovereignty."

The only other States that do not have inheritance taxes are Alabama and Nevada. They have not as yet joined Florida in her fight or the new Federal law.

Metropolitan Opera Stars On Ceramic Theatre Program

Singing and Dancing Act Will be Feature With Picture, "Padlocked," on Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Florence Rudolph, premier danseuse, and Adele Vasari, former soprano of the Metropolitan Opera company, and their company, with a singing and dancing act, will top the bill to be presented at the Ceramic theatre Thursday, Friday and Saturday in connection with Rex Beach's "Padlocked."

Antonio Razlog, tenor, of Berlin, and Alice Swanson and Gertrude Knight, ballet girls, will appear on the program with the former Metropolitan stars in a high class offering.

Miss Vasari, after completing her studies abroad, had successful appearances in opera in Berlin and Paris before she sang at the Metropolitan Opera House. She was also an understudy of Lora Hoffman in the New York Winter Garden show, "Topics of 1923."

Miss Rudolph, lithe and graceful, has scored dancing successes in the largest theatres of the country.

Lois Moran, Louise Dresser and Noah Beery are the stars of Rex Beach's flashing human drama of modern life and morals. The film version of the clash between freedom-loving younger generation and repressed older generation. "Padlocked" is a picturization of the widely read Cosmopolitan Magazine story.

The central character in the story is a lovely, high-spirited girl, who rebels against her father's narrow-minded attitude and efforts to stifle her natural ambitions, and runs away from home to seek a career on Broadway. As a cabaret dancer, she attracts the attention of the millionaire society set and becomes involved in a love triangle. An unexpected crisis develops when her father demands that she return home, and the subsequent events are charged with suspense and emotional appeal.

Girls! Use Lemon To Whiten Skin

The only harmless way to bleach the skin white is to mix the juice of two lemons with three ounces of Orchard White, which any druggist will supply for a few cents. Shake well in a bottle, and you have a whole quarter-pint of the most wonderful skin whitener, softener and beautifier.

Massage this sweetly fragrant lemon bleach into the face, neck, arms and hands. It can not irritate. Famous stage beauties use it to bring that clear, youthful skin and rosy-white complexion; also as a freckle, sunburn and tan bleach. You must mix this remarkable lotion yourself. It can not be bought ready to use because it acts best immediately after it is prepared.
